Cambodian Soil Is Shelled To Silence Viet Red Guns

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces fired 105mm howitzer shells into Cambodia to silence Viet Cong gunners shooting across the frontier, the commander of South Vietnam's 3rd Corps said today.

The disclosure by Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri came soon after American strategic bombers dropped 750 tons of bombs in saturation patterns along the Cambodian frontier during the night. The four big raids on the infiltration route northwest of Saigon indicated continuing apprehension that further Communist efforts are expected in the area.

Elsewhere in the air war, ground fire brought down a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk attacking North Vietnam and an American helicopter in South Vietnam. The Skyhawk was the 899th American warplane lost over North Vietnam from enemy action, while the helicopter was the sixth chopper lost in combat in the past four days.

The pilot of the Skyhawk was missing 12 miles northwest of Vinh; in the helicopter crash, one Vietnamese soldier was killed and three Americans and two South Vietnamese were wounded.

Gen. Tri said his troops fired their big howitzers into Cambodia last Friday after Viet Cong troops from Cambodia attacked a South Vietnamese outpost at Phuoc Tan.

He said the outpost's defenders drove off the attackers and as they fled, their mortars inside Cambodia opened up to cover their retreat across the border. The South Vietnamese retaliated with their howitzers to silence the mortars, but there was no word of casualties or damage on either side.

Tri noted that Cambodia has repeatedly denied that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong are based on its territory. He said the Cambodian government is expected to complain about the attack. However, the Saigon government contends that its forces have the right to fire on gunners shooting at them from inside Cambodia and to engage in "hot pursuit" across the border of enemy units which attack and then run for sanctuary in Cambodia.

Thant Urges U.N. Vote On Bombing; U.S. Is Angered

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly opens its 23rd annual session today with the United States angry at Secretary-General U Thant and threatening to demand a debate on the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Neither Vietnam nor Czechoslovakia are among the 99 items on the session's prospective agenda, but Thant suggested Monday that the assembly vote a resolution calling for an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. He said it would "receive the majority vote."

U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball paid a 20-minute call on Thant and said he made clear "that we did not regard his discussion of the problem of Vietnam as being in any way helpful in furthering the serious and sensitive negotiations now in progress in Paris."

It was the first U.S. protest to Thant in the more than three years the secretary-general has been speaking out on Vietnam.

Thant himself broke precedent when he outlined a bombing halt resolution at a news conference and suggested it be put to the General Assembly as "one means of finding out what the attitude of the international community is on this particular item."

He said the outcome would show that his repeated calls for a bombing halt spoke for the international community.

In Washington, the State Department said its figures showed Thant's resolution could not receive the two-thirds vote necessary for adoption.

Pleasant Fall Weather Seen

Scattered Rain Covers Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool air sweeping across the Midwest scattered rain from Missouri to Michigan today, but most other sections of the country enjoyed pleasant fall weather.

Rainfall tapered off in the predawn hours following torrential downpours in parts of Missouri. Troy, just north of St. Louis, was swamped by more than 4 inches of rain in a few hours Monday night.

Flash flood warnings were posted for Lincoln and Warren counties in east-central Missouri.

Nearly 2 inches of rain soaked Tulsa, Okla., during the night, but rainfall elsewhere over the midcontinent was more moderate. Showers also dampened the upper Ohio Valley.

Temperatures fell 10 to 15 degrees as the cool front crossed the northern Midwest. However, readings were somewhat less severe than early Monday in the northern and central Rockies.

Evanston, in southwestern Wyoming, chilled down to 30 just after midnight, compared with a reading of 22 at the same hour Monday. The community's morning low Monday was a wintry 16 degrees.

Clear skies were widespread from the Rockies westward and over much of the East and South. Temperatures in the 60s and 70s were equally common in these same regions.

Cleveland Youth Is Sentenced

RALEIGH, N.C. David Bertram Nickerson, formerly of Durham, N.C., was sentenced by Judge John Larkins after pleading "no contest" to charges that he wilfully refused to submit to induction into the Army.

Senate Studies Plan To Avoid Fortas Vote

CHICAGO (AP) — The Senate will be offered a plan to avoid a long battle over the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice by declaring that no vacancy exists on the Supreme Court as long as Chief Justice Earl Warren remains on the bench, the Chicago Tribune said today.

Details of the parliamentary maneuver which would remove the controversy from further consideration this year were learned Monday night, the Tribune said in a copyright story from its Washington bureau.

Senate leaders predicted the proposal would attract majority support, the Tribune story said.

In sum, it said, the plan would be in the form of a resolution with the judgment that "it is the sense of the Senate that no vacancy exists on the Supreme Court to be filled by Fortas or any other nominee as long as Chief Justice Earl Warren remains in active service."

The White House has been acquainted with the proposal, the Tribune said, and President Johnson was described as "wary" about it.

The story said, however, that Paul A. Porter of the law firm of Arnold & Porter, former law firm of Justice Fortas, had conferred with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., minority leader, on the resolution's implications.

There were indications that Fortas might greet such a resolution with relief, the Tribune report added.

Approval of the resolution by the Senate would remove the necessity of voting on Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Warren and would leave Warren in his seat as chief justice when the court reconvenes Oct. 7, the story said.

Warren has said his conditional resignation of June 13 would not take effect if Fortas had not been confirmed by the Senate when the court begins its new term.

A finding by the senate that no Supreme Court vacancy existed would probably be followed by withdrawal of Warren's resignation and of the Fortas nomination, the Tribune reported unnamed senators as saying.

Viet Reds Said Unable To Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thinning casualty lists and big arms seizures are being cited by military men to back their contention the enemy in Vietnam has been seriously weakened.

Pentagon officers are not speculating on what effect, if any, the enemy's weakened posture may have in the Paris negotiations.

The apparent failure by the enemy to get his so-called "third wave" offensive off the ground in August also is considered a significant barometer of the war's progress.

According to top officers, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong tried to launch this offensive about Aug. 18 but were thwarted by the spoiling operations of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander.

After an eight-week "lull" in which U.S. losses averaged 178 a week, the enemy stepped up action to a level that claimed 308 U.S. troops the third week of August, then 408 the final week.

The tempo then dropped and U.S. losses fell sharply to 195 the first week of September, nearing the 166 average for the summer of 1967.

In contrast to the brief August move, the enemy had kept the Tet offensive going about six weeks in February and March, claiming an average of 480 U.S. troops killed per week during the period.

Nixon was actively supporting local Republican candidates as he moved through the Midwest today, including some House contenders who he indicated might help supply a winning margin if Wallace's candidacy should throw the presidential election into the House.

The Republican nominee, making stops in the Dakotas and Idaho on his way to Seattle, Wash., almost ignored Humphrey's election bid in talks with newsmen. He spoke instead of votes Wallace might take from him in southern border states and from Humphrey in the North.

Nixon said his own private polls show Wallace has peaked in the South but was increasing his strength in the North.

The latest Harris survey, meanwhile, shows Wallace with 21 per cent voter support and a drop in Nixon's lead over Humphrey, to 39 per cent for Nixon against 31 per cent for Humphrey.

LBJ Says GM's Price Hike OK, Chrysler's Is Too High

DETROIT (AP) — A price increase by General Motors much less than that announced by Chrysler for 1969 cars has brought approval from President Johnson.

Prices of 1969 model GM autos will be an average of $49 higher when they go on sale this Thursday, GM Chairman James Roche told a news conference Monday.

President Johnson, who several days ago assailed an $84-per-car boost announced by Chrysler, asserted that the GM pricing improved "the outlook for the nation's prosperity and price record."

The President said his Cabinet Committee on Price Stability told him that "the consumer will be saved about $350 million by the difference between General Motors' more moderate action and Chrysler's earlier announcement."

Chrysler executives reportedly met quickly behind closed doors to reconsider their prices and determine whether to roll the increase back to a level close to that of GM.

Urges Combined State Agency On Rehabilitation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio should combine its two rehabilitation agencies in a separate department, Gov. James A. Rhodes will be told tonight.

His council on vocational rehabilitation will recommend creation of an Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission and expansion of the state's programs.

The 700-member group has concluded a two-year study and will report its findings at the opening session of the 14th annual conference of the Ohio Rehabilitation Association.

Rhodes will be urged to support legislation which would merge the Ohio Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, now part of the State Department of Education, and the Ohio Bureau of Services for the Blind, a division of the State Welfare Department.

Worried Humphrey Lashes Out At George Wallace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey says the working man will find neither a labor nor law-and-order champion in third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon's advisers, meanwhile, were making no attempt to disguise a search for ways to offset Wallace's apparently growing slice into their man's vote.

"They tell me he's (Wallace) has got a following," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for the Minnesota AFL-CIO Convention today. "And if he got it on the basis of law and order, then it's the greatest hoax that's ever been perpetrated on the American people."

Humphrey's remarks came amid reports Wallace is striking heavily into the Democrats' traditional blue-collar worker strength.

He said Alabama, where Wallace was governor through 1966, has one of the highest murder rates in the country—and said its workers find low wages, low fringe benefits and a high sales tax.

While concentrating on Wallace, Humphrey did not ignore his Republican opponent.

"No matter what he says today," Humphrey said, "Mr. Nixon's public record for 22 years condemns him as enemy of labor and an enemy of the working man."

Louis Harris said in a copy-right Washington Post story the survey shows Wallace has gained 4 per cent since an Aug. 24 survey, drawing more voters from Nixon than from Humphrey.

Commented Wallace: "I'll say we've got way more than 21 per cent."

Wallace also said in Atlanta, Ga., he will name his vice presidential running mate choice not later than next Monday.

1,000 Texans Evacuate; Fear Chlorine Leak

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Fire raged for hours after several explosions in the Atlantic Richfield Co. refinery today, injuring three men seriously and forcing evacuation of two small housing developments.

Although flames still leaped fiercely, a plant spokesman reported the blaze appeared to be contained by 6 a.m. in a small chemical unit and a surrounding field of gasoline tanks.

Heat was so intense that four houses caught fire across the street from the refinery and three cars were destroyed, firemen said. Fires in the dwellings were quenched.

A police-fire department dispatcher in the neighboring town of Groves, J. E. Velk, said concern over a possibility of chlorine gas escaping was one reason for evacuating the Fairlea and Winnwood additions beside the mile square plant site. Velk said he was told the gas was stored on the ground near the flames.

The first blast occurred shortly after 1:30 a.m. while about 50 men were working in the refinery, police said. It shook the neighborhood awake and hurled debris 200 yards to the nearest highway.

Newsmen estimated 1,000 persons were forced to leave homes in the two additions, which are on adjacent sides of Port Arthur and Groves. The refinery itself extends from the east edge of Port Arthur into Groves.

The three injured were John C. McKague, 29, Nederland; Seagal Stewart Jr., 43, Port Neches; and W. S. Bond, 55 Port Arthur.

Atlantic Richfield spokesmen said all employees were accounted for and there apparently were no other injuries of consequence.

Witnesses said the original and heaviest blast occurred as a tank of premium gasoline exploded. Thereafter the fire spread to a series of smaller tanks.

There was no immediate word on the cause of the initial explosion or the amount of loss.

LBJ Says GM's Price Hike OK, Chrysler's Is Too High

DETROIT (AP) — A price increase by General Motors much less than that announced by Chrysler for 1969 cars has brought approval from President Johnson.

Prices of 1969 model GM autos will be an average of $49 higher when they go on sale this Thursday, GM Chairman James Roche told a news conference Monday.

President Johnson, who several days ago assailed an $84-per-car boost announced by Chrysler, asserted that the GM pricing improved "the outlook for the nation's prosperity and price record."

The President said his Cabinet Committee on Price Stability told him that "the consumer will be saved about $350 million by the difference between General Motors' more moderate action and Chrysler's earlier announcement."

Chrysler executives reportedly met quickly behind closed doors to reconsider their prices and determine whether to roll the increase back to a level close to that of GM.

A rollback by Chrysler would be that firm's third in three years.

Last year, the third largest of the auto firms announced a $133 boost, reconsidered it after GM lifted its prices by $110 and finally settled on a $101 price hike.

In 1966, Chrysler again was first to announce prices—boosting them by $111. But GM said it was rising its price tag by $54 and Chrysler eventually came down to a $78 increase.

A Chrysler spokesman said the firm's officials Monday began studying "comparable offerings of both companies."

GM described its price increase as a 1.6 per cent boost over the list price of a comparable 1968 model.

Chrysler said its hike would average 2.9 per cent.

The two other major U.S. automakers, Ford Motor Co. and American Motors Corp., face ticklish decisions, on how much to charge for their new cars.

The general managers of Ford divisions and other top Ford officials reportedly were called to meet Wednesday, amid hints the session would deal with a pricing policy.

Ford's 1969 cars go on sale starting Thursday, same day as GM. American Motors plans to begin selling its 1969's on Saturday. Chrysler put its new autos on sale last Thursday.

GOP Strategy On Wallace Threat In South Disclosed

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Republican congressional candidates are being told they aren't expected to support Richard M. Nixon over George C. Wallace if it endangers their own election.

The degree of support they give the GOP presidential nominee will be left to their judgment.

The candidates are being told this by a Republican congressional campaign committee headed by Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader.

Ford confirmed the committee's strategy against Wallace after word of it came out of a meeting in nearby Greensboro Monday. GOP candidates from North Carolina and Kentucky attended.

It was the fourth strategy session the committee had held with candidates since setting out on a cross country tour last Wednesday. The GOP leaders will hold 11 such sessions.

Asked about reports on Wallace support, Ford said: "We want all the candidates to support the national ticket. But if they can't because of local sentiment, we will understand."

Ford said he had told the candidates of Virginia and Maryland the same thing at the first of the strategy meetings in Washington.

Wallace is running very close to Nixon in North Carolina and some other areas, Ford said, and GOP candidates "must use their own judgment," or whether to actively support the Nixon-Agnew ticket.

Ford said party leaders believe "it is just as important" to elect enough congressmen to overcome the Democrats' 30-seat margin in the House as it is to elect a Republican president.

Thant Urges U.N. Vote On Bombing; U.S. Is Angered

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly opens its 23rd annual session today with the United States angry at Secretary-General U Thant and threatening to demand a debate on the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Neither Vietnam nor Czechoslovakia are among the 99 items on the session's prospective agenda, but Thant suggested Monday that the assembly vote a resolution calling for an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. He said it would "receive the majority vote."

U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball paid a 20-minute call on Thant and said he made clear "that we did not regard his discussion of the problem of Vietnam as being in any way helpful in furthering the serious and sensitive negotiations now in progress in Paris." It was the first such U.S. protest to Thant in the more than three years the secretary-general has been speaking out on Vietnam.

Thant himself broke precedent when he outlined a bombing halt resolution at a news conference and suggested it be put to the General Assembly as "one means of find out what the attitude of the international community is on this particular item."

He said the outcome would show that his repeated calls for a bombing halt spoke for the international community.

In Washington, the State Department said its figures showed Thant's resolution could not receive the two-thirds vote necessary for adoption.

Thant at his news conference had refused to equate the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia with the U.S. intervention in Vietnam and said nothing about trying to get the Czechoslovak question before the assembly. But Ball, under questioning by newsmen, said the U.S. government is considering whether to propose adding this matter to the agenda.

Ambassador Zdenek Cernik, new head of the Czechoslovak delegation, told reporters that if Ball made such a proposal, "we would object." "It would not help us." His delegation has already asked the Security Council to take the Czechoslovak question off its agenda, following the Czechoslovak-Soviet agreement in Moscow.

In its first business, the assembly elects Guatemalan Foreign Minister Emilio Arenales Catalan as its president and takes up the admission of Swaziland as the 125th member of the world organization.

The 99 prospective agenda items include the seating of Red China, peacekeeping, disarmament, Korean reunification, Arab refugees, outer space, the seabed, pollution and the Arab-Israeli situation.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle says Israel's chances of survival "are small, if not nil," the newspaper Al Moharrer reported today.

The Arab leader was not identified. Al Moharrer added that De Gaulle said he was trying to check "Zionist infiltration" in his administration. The paper said that was why he fired Premier Georges Pompidou, who before joining the Gaullist government was an associate of the Rothschilds.

Pleasant Fall Weather Seen

Scattered Rain Covers Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cool air sweeping across the Midwest scattered rain from Missouri to Michigan today, but most other sections of the country enjoyed pleasant fall weather.

Rainfall tapered off in the predawn hours following torrential downpours in parts of Missouri. Troy, just north of St. Louis, was swamped by more than 4 inches of rain in a few hours Monday night.

Flash flood warnings were posted for Lincoln and Warren counties in east-central Missouri.

Nearly 2 inches of rain soaked Tulsa, Okla., during the night, but rainfall elsewhere over the midcontinent was more moderate. Showers also dampened the upper Ohio Valley.

Temperatures fell 10 to 15 degrees as the cool front crossed the northern Midwest. However, readings were somewhat less severe than early Monday in the northern and central Rockies.

Evanston, in southwestern Wyoming, chilled down to 30 just after midnight, compared with a reading of 22 at the same hour Monday. The community's morning low Monday was a wintry 16 degrees.

Clear skies were widespread from the Rockies westward and over much of the East and South. Temperatures in the 60s and 70s were equally common in these same regions.

Worried Humphrey Lashes Out At George Wallace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey says the working man will find neither a labor nor law-and-order champion in third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon's advisers, meanwhile, were making no attempt to disguise a search for ways to offset Wallace's apparently growing slice into their man's vote.

"They tell me he's (Wallace) has got a following," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for the Minnesota AFL-CIO Convention today. "And if he got it on the basis of law and order, then it's the greatest hoax that's ever been perpetrated on the American people."

Humphrey's remarks came amid reports Wallace is striking heavily into the Democrats' traditional blue-collar worker strength.

He said Alabama, where Wallace was governor through 1966, has one of the highest murder rates in the country—and said its workers find low wages, low fringe benefits and a high sales tax.

While concentrating on Wallace, Humphrey did not ignore his Republican opponent.

"No matter what he says today," Humphrey said, "Mr. Nixon's public record for 22 years condemns him as enemy of labor and an enemy of the working man."

Nixon was actively supporting local Republican candidates as he moved through the Midwest today, including some House contenders who he indicated might help supply a winning margin if Wallace's candidacy should throw the presidential election into the House.

The Republican nominee, making stops in the Dakotas and Idaho on his way to Seattle, Wash., almost ignored Humphrey's election bid in talks with newsmen. He spoke instead of votes Wallace might take from him in southern border states and from Humphrey in the North.

Nixon said his own private polls show Wallace has peaked in the South but was increasing his strength in the North.

The latest Harris survey, meanwhile, shows Wallace with 21 per cent voter support and a drop in Nixon's lead over Humphrey, to 39 per cent for Nixon against 31 per cent for Humphrey.

Louis Harris said in a copyright Washington Post story the survey shows Wallace has gained 4 per cent since an Aug. 24 survey, drawing more voters from Nixon than from Humphrey.

Commented Wallace: "I'll say we've got way more than 21 per cent."

Wallace also said in Atlanta, Ga., he will name his vice presidential running mate choice not later than next Monday.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — There were policemen in some patrol cars today despite a protest by 15 policemen's wives who don't want their husbands riding with women partners.

"I see no reason for all this fuss," said Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso after a conference with the wives.

The wives, all of them in their 20s and two carrying children, marched into Giarrusso's conference room Monday to complain that women police partners endanger their husbands.

Safety was the theme, not a patrolman has enough trouble taking care of himself in a violent situation without having to defend his partner, too.

Giarrusso said the women, in training for office duty, were assigned to ride with officers who are normally in one-man patrol cars.

Male-female teams are considered "one-man" cars and are not sent into potentially dangerous situations unless other officers already are there, he added.

The wives declined to identify themselves. About half of them said they joined the protest without their husbands' knowledge.

Despite the emphasis on safety, one wife said, "The job is hard enough on policemen's wives without knowing that their husbands are cooped up in an intimate situation with a woman for eight hours."

"They should have asked for single men to volunteer," a policeman said. "Married men would never have become involved—and there would have been plenty of volunteers."

City Zoning Hearing Held

Circleville's planning and zoning commission held an informal hearing Monday in city hall to consider a request to rezone a southend area.

The request was made for a 15-acre site bordering S. Court St. just south of the Ralston Purina Plant to be rezoned. The original request filed by the interested parties asked it be rezoned commercial.

However, the commission is considering the possibility of recommending it be rezoned industrial if the request is acted on. The contiguous area to the north is already industrial.

Schottensteins Inc. of Columbus has requested the rezoning. They reportedly are considering establishing a shopping center if the area is rezoned.

The zoning board, composed of Wally Yamrick, chairman; Harold Anderson, Bill Cook, Larry Varble, Mayor Richard Gerhardt and service director Earl Radcliff will make its recommendation to city council.

The city solons will have to hold a second public hearing before any legal action is taken.

The area involved is the Smith estate and the Wolfe property.

In a hearing preceding the one held by the city, Circleville Twp. trustees rezoned a 53 acre site owned by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad just south of town from commercial to industrial.

Trustees Robert Liston, John Fissell and Luther List approved the request of the railroad. Fissell said the area is being considered by an industry for a plant site.

Congress Gets Little Done; Not Enough For Quorum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preoccupation with the election, only six weeks away, is showing in Congress with members of both houses harder to find for conducting business.

Monday, for example, the House was forced to adjourn when there weren't enough members on hand for a quorum. It was the first time in nearly two years the House had to quit for lack of members on the floor.

The Senate Monday went into session two hours earlier than usual in an effort to expedite business. But it took that two hours and another 15 minutes to round up enough members to muster a quorum.

"This country is in grave trouble, the people are highly dissatisfied," Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield angrily chided his colleagues. "We, by our own actions, are making the Senate look ridiculous and picaresque."

Mansfield was forced to adjourn the Senate early Friday when a quorum of 51 members didn't appear on the scene. That's when he called the Senate into session two hours before the normal noon starting time on Monday.

In the House, there was a previously worked out agreement that no votes would be taken Monday or Tuesday except on procedural matters because of the Jewish high holidays. Only minor bills involving the District of Columbia were on the schedule.

With these two points in mind, many House members took advantage of the situation to get in some political ticks in their districts over the long weekend. There was no House session Friday.

When Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, asked for a quorum call Monday only 188 members answered.

Those teachers will participate in the Jennings Lecture Series to be held at Capital University, Columbus.

The series, co-sponsored by Capital University and the Martha Holden Jennings Foundation of Cleveland, has been established to honor outstanding elementary and secondary classroom teachers.

A total of about 350 teachers in Central Ohio have been designated as Jennings Scholars and will attend a series of eight lectures on the Capital University campus. Internationally recognized authorities in various fields will serve as guest speakers.

The first three Jennings speakers and their respective topics are as follows: Dr. Jose M. R. Delgado, pioneer of new methods of brain research and Yale University Medical School faculty member, "Cerebral Basis for Violence and Peaceful Co-existence," Oct. 5; Dr. Marcus Bach, world traveler, author and specialist in intercultural and inter-religious relations, "Time for A Change In Thinking," Nov. 2, and Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former Hungarian Minister of Finance and now director of the School of International Studies at Bradley University, "It Isn't Easy to Be An American," Nov. 16.

Congress Gets Little Done; Not Enough For Quorum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preoccupation with the election, only six weeks away, is showing in Congress with members of both houses harder to find for conducting business.

Monday, for example, the House was forced to adjourn when there weren't enough members on hand for a quorum. It was the first time in nearly two years the House had to quit for lack of members on the floor.

The Senate Monday went into session two hours earlier than usual in an effort to expedite business. But it took that two hours and another 15 minutes to round up enough members to muster a quorum.

"This country is in grave trouble, the people are highly dissatisfied," Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield angrily chided his colleagues. "We, by our own actions, are making the Senate look ridiculous and picaresque."

Mansfield was forced to adjourn the Senate early Friday when a quorum of 51 members didn't appear on the scene. That's when he called the Senate into session two hours before the normal noon starting time on Monday.

In the House, there was a previously worked out agreement that no votes would be taken Monday or Tuesday except on procedural matters because of the Jewish high holidays. Only minor bills involving the District of Columbia were on the schedule.

With these two points in mind, many House members took advantage of the situation to get in some political licks in their districts over the long weekend. There was no House session Friday.

When Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, asked for a quorum call Monday only 188 members answered.

SANCTUARY "FIRST" — Paul Olympieri, 21, U.S. Marine who went AWOL Aug. 30, and wife Lynn are shown chained to several other persons in Harvard Divinity School, Cambridge, Mass., where he went for sanctuary. This is believed to be the first instance of an attempt to apply the principle of sanctuary to an educational institution in the U.S.

Padre Pio Dies At 81; Bore Stigma

SAN GIOVANNI ROTONDO, Italy (AP) — Padre Pio, the Roman Catholic monk who bore the stigmatic bloodstains recalling the wounds of the crucified Christ, died at his monastery here Monday. He was 81.

Last Friday, gravely ill and confined to a wheelchair, he celebrated the 50th anniversary of the first appearance of the stigma on his hands, feet and the left side of his chest.

The Vatican never gave an official pronouncement itself on the case of Padre Pio, born Francesco Forgione, son of a poor peasant in Southern Italy. He became a monk in 1903 and was ordained a priest in 1910.

He never left his monastery of St. Mary of Mercy after the stigma appeared on Sept. 20, 1918.

As the story of Padre Pio spread, prosperity came to little San Giovanni Rotondo, in Italy's poor southland. Tourists, visitors and seekers of miracle cures came to his little town, at first by the thousands, finally at the rate of more than one million a year.

Space Junk Peril Rises

The world — as if it hadn't had enough problems — now has to contend with the possibility that falling space junk might cause death or injury to living things.

Debris from falling space vehicles formerly was considered by rocketeers to be no threat because they were convinced it would completely disintegrate as it fell through the earth's atmosphere.

Most of it does, but not all. A surprising number of pieces landed on earth since the dawn of the space age, and in this, too, there is escalation as the years go by.

Six objects slammed to earth in 1958, 65 in 1961 and 205 in 1966. The number fell off to 324 last year, but the count is on the rise again this year.

So far, the only casualties have been two cows in Cuba. But the possibilities are very real that the space age has brought with it the potential for human casualties as a result of returning debris.

More than 1,000 pieces of junk have fallen to earth so far. An estimated 1,320 are in orbit.

A more potentially dangerous hazard exists to high-flying jet aircraft by the space particles. The higher the elevation from which it starts to descend, the more dangerous the debris is because it has had less time to devour itself in the severe friction of the atmosphere.

Fragments of space vehicles have been slowed to about 500-600 miles per hour in their descent at the elevation now used by modern jets. At the higher elevations of the upcoming supersonic transports, the scraps move at 2,000 miles per hour and spread themselves over 30 to 60 miles.

A fragment striking a fuselage at either speed could cause explosive decompression.

Warning systems to prevent an aircraft tragedy have been placed in operation. Each piece of orbiting junk is programmed on computers and its potential drop into the atmosphere can be forecast weeks in advance.

The exact location can be pinpointed with great accuracy about three to four hours before it arrives on earth. If all goes well, there should be time to keep aircraft out of the trouble zone.

Such "ifs," however, are not calculated to make pilots sleep well.

The Woman Alcoholic

It generally shocks people to learn that there are hundreds of thousands of women alcoholics and that the number is growing. Where are they, they ask — we don't see them staggering around on the streets.

Women alcoholics aren't as noticeable as men because they tend to drink in secret. The bored housewife is the one most likely to exceed. She can be a heavy drinker for years without anyone except her husband and family knowing that she has a problem. As the working force attracts more women, the problem of female alcoholism has reached into the business arena as well. Every evening bars in large cities contain a goodly percentage of women, many of them single or divorced, and most of them "working girls" seeking relaxation from the day's grind.

Many alcoholics can be cured. What the majority of them need is rest, understanding and therapy. For women alcoholics, perhaps even more than men, kindness and understanding are often the most successful forms of therapy.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

The health of children is almost always at a high peak after a summer of exposure to sunlight and healthful activity. Respiratory infections and contagious diseases are at a minimum during the summer season.

When school begins, and cold and damp weather ushers in the cycle of colds and childhood infection. The beginning of the school year, therefore, becomes an excellent time to give every child the great advantage of sustaining the healthy build-up by having a complete medical and dental checkup.

Vaccinations, immunization and booster shots are wisely required before admission to most schools. Examination of the heart, lungs, urine and blood can be expanded to fit the specific needs of the particular child. Keeping a health record is most important. It is surprising how often adults wonder whether they ever had measles, mumps or chicken pox during childhood. This knowledge is of major importance to themselves when their own children are exposed to these diseases.

An eye examination must include a test for color vision. A hearing study, which need not be done by a specialist unless one's doctor feels it necessary, contributes much to understanding a child's capacity to keep up with his class studies.

It is astonishing how often a child's learning capacity is affected by some defect in speech or hearing. It is more surprising that in so many children these defects are undiscovered and untreated until they fall far behind their classmates.

All doctors are pressured by some parents to "just give a minute's look and sign the form, so that we don't have to take up your valuable time." Signing a school form without thorough inspection does everyone a great injustice.

Physicians welcome the pre-school time of year as a special one to evaluate a child's physical and emotional makeup. Doctors may make important recommendations especially for tense children who are made more anxious by a new school or by the adventure of the first grade.

School nurses and educators readily accept the suggestion of the doctors who outline any special limitation of activity or any particular physical needs of their young patients. The new school experience may need some direction for the parent and for the child. During the pre-school examination significant suggestions can guide parents during this difficult time for the child.

Contagious diseases are readily passed from child to child, especially during kindergarten and the first grade. Children who normally have had few colds come down with a surprising number of infections at this time. It has been suggested that these children, subjected to new germs, need some time to build up immunity to them.

The new measles and mumps vaccines have been shown to be remarkably effective and safe and should be part of the pre-school health preparation. The other vaccines, including those for polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough, are standard requirements long before school starts.

When it is suspected that a child has been exposed to a contagious disease, school authorities must be notified immediately so that all children might be properly protected with gamma globulin, if their doctor feels it will ward off or modify an infection.

The pre-school physical examination is a valuable gift, and enjoyed throughout the school year.

Lovely looking field mushrooms may be of the severely poisonous type. Don't eat them unless you know for sure they are safe.

Days Of Socialism Limited

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN LONDON — You can't come to Europe without feeling that the days of socialism, at least in its more exacting forms, may be numbered.

Item: the Czech opera singer, Josef Benes, who turned up as a guest at last week's Mont Pelerin Society economic conference in Scotland. Though not trained as an economist, Benes gave a most interesting description of what the Czechs were trying to do to combine a market economy with Communist loyalty before the Soviet tanks so rudely interrupted the experiment. He was talking to professionals at an economic analysis who think that democratic socialism is a contradiction in terms.

But no matter, the Czechs, if left alone, might have discovered a way to become relatively capitalistic while still using a Marxist rhetoric, just as the Scandinavian countries, while nominally socialist, actually retain more capitalism than you can find today in Harold Wilson's England or de Gaulle's France. A Cuban economist who happens to be a refugee from Castro tried to argue Benes out of his professed resolve to return to Prague to share the fate of his countrymen. "You will be jailed," so the Cuban said. But Benes insisted that it would be perfectly safe to return. The Czech liberalization would continue in spite of the Russian tanks, he said, and a way to combine a free market with allegiance to Communism would be found.

What is interesting about this is the Czech's logic; it is his psychology. Assuming that he is representative of his generation in central Europe, it is obvious that the days of "planning for rules" (Winston Churchill's phrase) are numbered in Prague as in Tito's Belgrade or even in Gomulka's Warsaw. "Planning for choice" (Churchill's other phrase) will some day take over. Whether this is called "socialism" or "Revisionism" or "capitalism" hardly matters.

Item Number Two in promoting the feeling that socialism is on its way out was a conversation with Ole-Jacob Hoff, a young assistant editor of the Norwegian weekly "Farmand." Hoff's country threw out its labor government last year after a generation of nominal socialist controls. But the change, as Hoff said, has not been great for the simple reason that Norway was never really socialist anyway. A trading nation, Norway has always had to compete on the world market for the profits needed to yield the taxes for state welfare. Hoff recalled a conversation between a foreign socialist and a Norwegian labor man about the possible "nationalization" of the Norwegian merchant fleet.

The Norwegian was shocked at the idiosyncrasy of the proposal. For the truth of the matter, as he tried to explain to the doctrinaire foreign socialist, is that the Norwegian ships are all over the seven seas, and seldom return home. Should any threat be made to "nationalize" the Norwegian carrying trade, the ship owners would simply recharter their companies under the Liberian or the Panamanian flag. Norway would pay for socialist "purity" at home with the loss of the very thing that is now needed to pay the cost of "socialist" welfare measures.

Item Number Three is encouraging the view that socialism is an outmoded philosophy is the work being done in England by a lively organization called the Institute of Economic Affairs. Operating out of a small office in London's Eaton House Square, with cartons of still unshipped books and pamphlets cluttering every inch of available space in the corridors, this Institute keeps reminding Englishmen that "planning for choice" is quite compatible with social security. The Institute's directors, Ralph Harris and Arthur Seldon, don't make the tactical mistake of trying to sell a return to complete laissez faire to the British public. Their general pitch is to remind people that "voucher" systems might easily be contrived to let a person choose between State-supported schools and private schools, or between State and private enterprise in any insurance field. For those wanting to "contract out" of socialistic schemes, the voucher would amount to a return of tax money to the individual to take care of his own security needs. Socialism, one concludes, is a nineteenth century doctrine belonging to an outmoded age of "isms." It will hardly be around when the Twentieth-first century shows us how to combine free choice with the insured life.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Some how an economic slowdown has been lost. Most analysts still feel it has only been delayed en route. Others aren't sure. Maybe it will never come, they say.

In this age of computers you'd think it couldn't happen, but it has. The American economy was supposed to be turning sluggish by now, the result of spending cutbacks and an income tax surcharge. But it's roaring.

"I don't know what's happened," said an economist looking at his charts. "Industrial production is high and capital spending plans look good. Lots of jobs and little unemployment. Lots of houses being built, retail sales strong, cars selling like candybars."

"What bothers me," said his partner, "is that the government takes 10 per cent more taxes from people and the people just don't seem to mind. They're spending like mad. And when people don't complain about taxes something's wrong."

"Search me," said the other. "When I forecast a slowdown I was as certain it would appear by now as the movie projectionist is certain his picture will reach the screen. What could have happened?"

A lot of people are asking that question. The Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis headlined an article in its September issue, "Excessive Demand Slowing?" Note the question mark.

Business Week magazine in a mid-September editorial said, "These are times that try decision makers' souls. A large majority of economists is warning of a business slowdown. But the economy itself continues to point upward."

Several consultants and economic advisers to business continue to tell their clients to look for a strong 1969, and some of them have all but ruled out fears of a recession during mid-winter.

Arthur Okun, the president's chief economic adviser, said last week that he still expects the slowdown to develop but conceded that so far the signs of it haven't been so pronounced as he had expected.

Walter Heller, who was chief economic adviser in the Kennedy administration, is one of a shrinking number who feel the slowdown already has begun, that it will continue for months and that the nation must guard against too much cooling.

Argus Research, which provides economic and investment research to business, is among those which earlier warned of a possible recession this winter. Now it is suspicious of the government's anti-inflation statements.

"The publication of the economic data for August has widened the 'credibility gap' concerning the effectiveness of the government's widely heralded disinflationary policies," it said.

"The August data," it continued, "have given added substance to the feeling that the government disinflationary policies are not producing the expected results." Politics, it suspects, might be compromising economics.

A few definite effects of the tax increase have appeared, but not in a pattern. The signs have been isolated here and there.

American Telephone & Telegraph earnings, for example, fell in the most recent quarter to 93 cents a share from 97 cents three months ago.

But stocks, including even AT&T, have displayed strength. The market is not an infallible barometer of future business activity and it could be wrong now, but for what it is worth, it has been pointing upward.

Two explanations seem prominent in explanations of why the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. One, consumers are dipping into their savings to continue spending for cars, houses and luxuries. Too, some corporations feel the only way to overcome higher wages is to spend money for expansion and greater efficiency.

Whatever the reasons, the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. The economists are almost unanimous still in forecasting slower expansion by late fall or winter. But that's what they said before.

The search for the slowdown continues and some economists are asking questions now instead of issuing forecasts.

To those who claim they've seen signs of the slowdown's onset the cynics argue that some people will always see signs and portents in the sky.

The slowdown, they say, is lost and they're wondering if it ever will be found.

Long considered extinct by ornithologists, the spiny babbler seemingly vanished after being recorded in the 1840s. It was rediscovered in 1948 near Rekha in western Nepal, 5,000 feet above the tropical valley of Karnali.

couraging the view that socialism is an outmoded philosophy is the work being done in England by a lively organization called the Institute of Economic Affairs. Operating out of a small office in London's Eaton House Square, with cartons of still unshipped books and pamphlets cluttering every inch of available space in the corridors, this Institute keeps reminding Englishmen that "planning for choice" is quite compatible with social security. The Institute's directors, Ralph Harris and Arthur Seldon, don't make the tactical mistake of trying to sell a return to complete laissez faire to the British public. Their gen-

Army-Student Battle Rocks Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Army troops captured a vocational school on the northwest side of Mexico City today after an all-night gun battle in which at least three persons were killed and 50 students and riot police were wounded.

The Red Cross Hospital reported the deaths of an 18-year-old science student and a riot policeman. Other sources reported a 25-year-old medical student killed earlier in the night.

The government sent troops in more than 400 assault cars to the Santo Tomas Vocational School after riot police and students inside the school had battled for more than five hours with guns, pistols, knives, clubs, Molotov cocktails, stones and tear gas.

It was the most violent skirmish so far in the two-month-old student rebellion against President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Scattered shooting continued from student snipers on rooftops in the San Jacinto neighborhood. Using .22-caliber pistols and rifles, the students picked off policemen as they patrolled in the morning darkness.

Several blocks away, riot police lobbed tear gas grenades into apartments in the Tlatelolco district where residents sympathizing with the students shouted "pigs" and "assassins" at the police. Police drove several hundred students from another vocational school there after being forced back by heavy gunfire. But 150 of the students took refuge in nearby buildings and hurled Molotov cocktails at the police.

On the south side of the city, 5,000 other youths marched on the federal district penitentiary, vowing to free two labor leaders despite police manning machine guns. But student leaders dispersed the crowd, urging the youths to return after they reorganized and formulated a plan of action.

Athletes continued to arrive for the 1968 Olympic Games, scheduled to start Oct. 12, and no Mexican Olympic official would comment on the possibility that the games might be canceled because of the violence, now in its seventh day. But many foreign spectators seemed certain to stay away.

A government spokesman said he knew nothing about rumors that Diaz Ordaz was considering declaring martial law. Such a declaration might endanger the holding of the Olympics.

The night's biggest battle raged around the Santo Tomas Vocational School. A policeman was shot and wounded there about 7:30 p.m., and as more riot police moved in, a steady gun battle broke out at about 10 p.m.

An estimated 3,000 students fired from the school and from rooftops, or fought hand to hand in the streets with more than 1,500 police. Trained adult agitators also were believed to be among the snipers.

Asked why he had been there, one wounded student replied: "I don't know, but I'm against the grenades"—riot police. Mexico City students have been on strike for two months and disbanding of the grenades and firing of three top police officials are among their demands.

Dear Editor:

In all sincerity I hope that you will print this letter. It seems as though some people have been misinformed — or just love to gossip — in my opinion this is one of the most prevalent problems of the world today.

Before people start their tongues wagging, they should know the facts. Well, to all whomever they may, or think they concern them, here are some facts! It was my son, Eddie Jr., NOT my husband, Ed. Sr., that was involved in stealing the item from a local firm here. The price was only a little over one dollar — I paid his fine of eleven dollars!

The only answer he would give any of the authorities was, "I don't know," when he was asked why he did it. I dressed him down until he admitted some boys said he was "chicken" if he didn't go in a store and pick up something and walk out without paying for it!

Just proves one more thing about our town of Circleville, when a boy graduates from High School, and Eddie did, without my having to push him even one day from the first through the 12th, there is nothing to occupy them. They are more than a boy, yet not quite a man. They can't get a job that amounts to anything because people won't waste their time training them, knowing the service will get them after they are 19 years old.

I realize they are working on it now, but just think how long our city has been without one theatre — though the city has been greatly expanded.

So can we blame the kids altogether? I have always been very proud of Eddie and I still am. He has never caused his dad nor me one minutes trouble, til this and I don't blame him entirely for he did have enough maturity about him and not get those other boys in trouble which is more than you gossipers did.

That's what I mean by knowing the facts — very often the idle talk causes harm to the innocent. If any of you had asked me, I would have told you the truth.

Writers Speculate On New Outbreak At Ohio Prison

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Dayton Daily News writers winding up their series of copyrighted articles on the Ohio Penitentiary speculated today on possible further disturbances at the old prison.

Dale Huffman and John McMillan said "nearly everyone connected with the prison agrees that more trouble is lurking around the corner," and quoted Rabbi Nathan Zelizer, a prison chaplain, as saying:

"Behind those walls today, it's like the countdown in a large city just before an atomic blast. You've seen those movies where the cities are vacated and sadly quiet and deserted, awaiting the blast. That's the mood on this day behind those walls in that city of doom . . . the way things are going now . . . they, the inmates, have seen their friends stripped, dehumanized and humiliated. They have seen five of their men die.

"They are going to throw themselves bodily one of these times at a bunch of those National Guardsmen standing there with guns. The first 10 will get killed. But the second 10 will grab those guns."

State officials have declined to comment on the series of articles, saying the Franklin County Grand Jury is to investigate the Aug. 20-21 prison rioting. An FBI investigation also has been ordered by the Department of Justice.

Meanwhile, in Columbus, National Guardsmen have been relieved of their duties at the prison, and normal prison routine has been resumed.

Middletown Has Outbreak

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Disturbances believed to have started from the start of the annual Middletown High School homecoming queen campaign were reported by police during the night.

There were reports of three separate incidents.

One occurred about 9:30 p.m. when police were called to 17th avenue on reports of youths painting cars. One police cruiser was painted by the milling youths.

Painting of cars with water colors in support of candidates for homecoming queen usually occurs during the campaign.

Another police report was of fights between Negroes and whites near the Country Kitchen on Titus avenue. Another report about 12:30 a.m. was of a disturbance on Michigan avenue. Police eventually broke that up but the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. police shift was held on duty until all was quiet about 2 a.m.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four men accused in the theft of 1,175 cases of gin from a tractor-trailer here last April pleaded guilty Monday to conspiracy. Three then testified against a fifth defendant.

Soviet Hard Line Worries Europe

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Europeans now have had time for sober reflection on what a sudden change in the military situation in the heart of their continent might mean, and many are worried.

The Soviet military intervention in Czechoslovakia has been accompanied by heavy political pressure on Yugoslavia and Romania and by threatening gestures toward West Germany.

There is speculation about the Kremlin's ultimate purposes. Why the angry posture toward Yugoslavia? What sort of pressure is Romania feeling? What is the meaning of the Soviet declaration of a right to intervene in West Germany? How far might the Russians go in Europe toward risking a Western response. Who in the Kremlin is calling the shots these days?

These are questions of critical importance to Europeans. In Yugoslavia, a prominent political leader told a Serbian rally a few days ago that "we are incorporating a system of defense, more than ever before, in the entire social structure." Yugoslavs are receiving defense manuals in which President Tito advises them to be prepared for war "as if it could break out tomorrow," while working as if peace might last for a century. Last week, the Russians sent Ivan I. Yakubovsky, the Soviet general who commands Warsaw Pact forces, to Bulgaria on an unexplained mission. Yugoslavs eyed the development suspiciously.

Since 1948, the Yugoslavs have successfully conducted their affairs out of reach of the Russians, with whom they have no border. Soviet troops on the border of the Bulgarian part of Macedonia would radically change the picture. So would the presence of Soviet troops in Romania, which still is a Warsaw Pact member. There have been signs of edginess in Romania about the possibility that the Russians might have such a demand in mind.

Editorials in the Soviet press have been lambasting Yugoslavia because of Tito's criticism of the Czechoslovak intervention. The Soviet press pictures Yugoslavia as just as damaging to world communism as the Red

Chinese with their Peking brand of defiance.

As for West Germany, the attacks have been furious. Pravda, a few days ago, insisted that the West Germans, in league with the United States, have been hatching plans "to weaken the defense system of the Warsaw Treaty, change the balance of forces to their advantage in Europe and consequently in the whole world." West Germany, it said, was assigned the role of "shock force of world imperialism" in "an attack on the positions of the Socialist world."

Against that background, the Russians have been claiming a right, under "enemy states" clauses of the U.N. Charter, to intervene as will in West Germany.

Academic Center To Open Oct. 3

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — About 250 students will report to classes Oct. 3 when the University of Cincinnati's new Tri-County Academic Center opens here.

The center at Eastern Brown County High School is designed to provide two-year programs leading to the associate in arts or associate in science degrees.

Russia Offers Troop Cut If Czechs Will Bow More

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak sources say the Russians have offered to withdraw all but 100,000 of the half a million troops occupying the country if Prague's leaders make more concessions to the Kremlin.

Three Czechoslovak leaders are scheduled to fly to Moscow this week for more negotiations. Sources say the Russians are demanding stricter controls on the Czechoslovak press and the removal of additional figures from Czechoslovak public life.

The latter are believed to include newspaper editors, writers and other persons who were critical of the Soviets before the Aug. 20 invasion.

Three Cabinet members, all key figures in the Czechoslovak liberalization drive, have already given up their posts under Soviet pressure. They are Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek, Deputy Premier Ota Sik and Interior Minister Josef Pavel.

Despite the initial agreement by the Czechoslovak leadership to censor the press, Czechoslovak news media have maintained an unfriendly tone toward the Russians and the other four Warsaw Pact allies, whose troops invaded the country.

Editors have veiled criticism of the invasion in double meanings and freely quoted from Western Communist party newspapers that condemned it.

The Russians are reported planning to keep seven divisions of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, most of them along the West German border. However, at least one military installation 60 miles northeast of Prague, on a main highway to Poland, is being taken over by the Soviets. Czechoslovak troops now occupying the camp have been given until Oct. 15 to leave.

The partial withdrawal of the Russian troops would be completed by Oct. 28, Czechoslovakia's 50th birthday, local sources said. But thus far, despite a thinning out of the Soviet, Polish, East German, Bulgarian and Hungarian occupation troops in urban areas, informed sources say no significant withdrawals from the country have taken place.

Adams County Man Is Held In Theft Probe

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP) — Adams County police have recovered guns and ammunition from a restaurant and adjoining house in nearby Manchester and arrested the owner of the eating spot on US 52.

Donald Williamson 25, Manchester, has been charged with concealing stolen guns, ammunition and other merchandise.

Many of the goods found were believed to have been stolen from a general store and a grocery in Portsmouth. A Portsmouth youth, Michael Craft, 19, was previously arrested in the burglary of the grocery and other suspects are being sought, police said.

Other merchandise, including appliances and furniture, located at the restaurant and house were said to have been stolen from two nearby homes.

4 Plead Guilty To Booze Theft

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four men accused in the theft of 1,175 cases of gin from a tractor-trailer here last April pleaded guilty Monday to conspiracy.

Three then testified against a fifth defendant.

The four previously entered not guilty pleas to conspiracy and another charge in U.S. District Court here.

An FBI agent told the court the liquor was stolen either April 21 or 22 from a Helm's Express rig and he valued the cargo, of which 700 cases of gin are still missing, at $47,000.

Soviet Hard Line Worries Europe

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Europeans now have had time for sober reflection on what a sudden change in the military situation in the heart of their continent might mean, and many are worried.

The Soviet military intervention in Czechoslovakia has been accompanied by heavy political pressure on Yugoslavia and Romania and by threatening gestures toward West Germany.

There is speculation about the Kremlin's ultimate purposes. Why the angry posture toward Yugoslavia? What sort of pressure is Romania feeling? What is the meaning of the Soviet declaration of a right to intervene in West Germany? How far might the Russians go in Europe toward risking a Western response. Who in the Kremlin is calling the shots these days?

These are questions of critical importance to Europeans.

In Yugoslavia, a prominent political leader told a Serbian rally a few days ago that "we are incorporating a system of defense, more than ever before, in the entire social structure."

Yugoslavs are receiving defense

manuals in which President Tito advises them to be prepared for war "as if it could break out tomorrow," while working as if peace might last for a century.

Last week, the Russians sent Ivan I. Yakubovsky, the Soviet general who commands Warsaw Pact forces, to Bulgaria on an unexplained mission. Yugoslavs eyed the development suspiciously.

Since 1948, the Yugoslavs have successfully conducted their affairs out of reach of the Russians, with whom they have no border. Soviet troops on the border of the Bulgarian part of Macedonia would radically change the picture. So would the presence of Soviet troops in Romania, which still is a Warsaw Pact member. There have been signs of edginess in Romania about the possibility that the Russians might have such a demand in mind.

Editorials in the Soviet press have been lambasting Yugoslavia because of Tito's criticism of the Czechoslovak intervention. The Soviet press pictures Yugoslavia as just as damaging to world communism as the Red

Chinese with their Peking brand of defiance.

As for West Germany, the attacks have been furious. Pravda, a few days ago, insisted that the West Germans, in league with the United States, have been hatching plans "to weaken the defense system of the Warsaw Treaty, change the balance of forces to their advantage in Europe and consequently in the whole world." West Germany, it said, was assigned the role of "shock force of world imperialism" in "an attack on the positions of the Socialist world."

Against that background, the Russians have been claiming a right, under "enemy states" clauses of the U.N. Charter, to intervene as will in West Germany.

Russia Offers Troop Cut If Czechs Will Bow More

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak sources say the Russians have offered to withdraw all but 100,000 of the half a million troops occupying the country if Prague's leaders make more concessions to the Kremlin.

Three Czechoslovak leaders are scheduled to fly to Moscow this week for more negotiations. Sources say the Russians are demanding stricter controls on the Czechoslovak press and the removal of additional figures from Czechoslovak public life. The latter are believed to include newspaper editors, writers and other persons who were critical of the Soviets before the Aug. 20 invasion.

Three Cabinet members, all key figures in the Czechoslovak liberalization drive, have already given up their posts under Soviet pressure. They are Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek, Deputy Premier Ota Sik and Interior Minister Josef Pavel.

Despite the initial agreement by the Czechoslovak leadership to censor the press, Czechoslovak news media have maintained an unfriendly tone toward the Russians and the other four Warsaw Pact allies, whose troops invaded the country.

Editors have veiled criticism of the invasion in double meanings and freely quoted from Western Communist party newspapers that condemned it.

The Russians are reported planning to keep seven divisions of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, most of them along the West German border. However, at least one military installation 60 miles northeast of Prague, on a main highway to Poland, is being taken over by the Soviets. Czechoslovak troops now occupying the camp have been given until Oct. 15 to leave.

The partial withdrawal of the Russian troops would be completed by Oct. 28, Czechoslovakia's 50th birthday, local sources said. But thus far, despite a thinning out of the Soviet, Polish, East German, Bulgarian and Hungarian occupation troops in urban areas, informed sources say no significant withdrawals from the country have taken place.

Adams County Man Is Held In Theft Probe

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP) — Adams County police have recovered guns and ammunition from a restaurant and adjoining house in nearby Manchester and arrested the owner of the eating spot on US 52.

Donald Williamson 25, Manchester, has been charged with concealing stolen guns, ammunition and other merchandise.

Many of the goods found were believed to have been stolen from a general store and a grocery in Portsmouth. A Portsmouth youth, Michael Craft, 19, was previously arrested in the burglary of the grocery and other suspects are being sought, police said.

Other merchandise, including appliances and furniture, located at the restaurant and house were said to have been stolen from two nearby homes.

Heart Transplant Made 52nd Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Surgeons transplanted the heart of a Houston youth into a man from Mesa, Ariz., Monday night at Methodist Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the recipient, Verne L. Martin, 46, was progressing satisfactorily.

Attendants said the donor was Michael Ray Jennings, 17, who died of head injuries suffered in an auto accident Sunday.

Martin entered the hospital Aug. 12 with coronary artery occlusive disease, the hospital said.

He is the world's 52nd heart transplant patient and the 16th to undergo such surgery in Houston.

Woman Files Bankruptcy; Spouse Gone

CINCINNATI (AP) — Betty Jo Napier filed a bankruptcy petition in U.S. District Court here Monday saying that she "had to take over" a service station owned by her husband who has been missing since Aug. 5.

Mrs. Napier of suburban Groesbeck listed $50,433 in debts and $22,000 in assets for the station in suburban Kenwood owned by Russell Napier, 33, who she claimed absconded from the business.

Napier mysteriously disappeared after he took a five-gallon can of gasoline and $875 from the station and set out on a trouble call in his truck.

The truck was found abandoned four hours later about seven miles from the station and had a door open and flasher lights operating. The gas can was found partially filled and the cash was gone.

You can make a delicious sandwich filling using flaked tuna, chopped or mashed hard-cooked eggs, slivered ripe olives, cut-up anchovy fillets and mayonnaise. Serve this sophisticated sandwich with chilled cucumber soup when guests come to lunch.

Mailmen's Union Doggone Mad About Doggone Dogs

By NEIL GILBRIDE

AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mailmen's union is doggone mad about dogs nipping postmen and complains that a government study on safety is being conducted too slow to take the bite out of the problem.

"By the time the study is completed, 17,500 more letter carriers will be bitten," said James H. Rademacher, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

To make matters even worse, the projected 21-month study by the Labor Department probably won't even go into the canine threat.

"It has nothing to do with dog bites," said Robert Goodell, director of Labor's Office of Occupational Safety. He said the study will primarily concern the safety problems of mail handling the motor vehicle operation.

If dog bites are considered it will be "a very fringe element," Goodell said. But it is dog bites that seem to most arouse the postman's ire.

"Unleashed dogs are not only causing too much damage to mailmen, but they are taking too much of a bite out of the taxpayers' dollar," Rademacher said in the union's publication, the Postal Record.

He said 10,000 mailmen were bitten by dogs last year, more than 1,000 of them serious enough to require hospitalization.

A government report estimates the average cost of a mailman's dog bite is $546 in medical bills, lost manpower and other expenses, according to Rademacher.

"The annual bill is well over a half-million dollars to taxpayers," he said.

Cream shortening and vanilla together until soft. Gradually add sugar, creaming until fluffy. Gradually add eggs, beating until smooth. Sift together dry ingredients and seasonings. Mix bitters with milk. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, a little at a time, beating only until smooth. Fold in raisins. Fill well-greased miniature muffin tins about 2-3 full. Bake for about 20 minutes at 375 degrees F. Cool and frost tops with chocolate icing to which a few drops of aromatic bitters have been added. Makes about 30 small but delicious cupecakes.

Mailmen's Union Doggone Mad About Doggone Dogs

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The mailmen's union is doggone mad about dogs nipping postmen and complains that a government study on safety is being conducted too slow to take the bite out of the problem.

"By the time the study is completed, 17,500 more letter carriers will be bitten," said James H. Rademacher, president of the National Associated of Letter Carriers.

To make matters even worse, the projected 21-month study by the Labor Department probably won't even go into the canine threat.

"It has nothing to do with dog bites," said Robert Goodell, director of Labor's Office of Occupational Safety. He said the study will primarily concern the safety problems of mail handling the motor vehicle operation.

If dog bites are considered it will be "a very fringe element," Goodell said. But it is dog bites that seems to most arouse the postman's ire.

"Unleashed dogs are not only causing too much damage to mailmen, but they are taking too much of a bite out of the taxpayers' dollar," Rademacher said in the union's publication, the Postal Record.

He said 10,000 mailmen were bitten by dogs last year, more than 1,000 of them serious enough to require hospitalization.

A government report estimates the average cost of a mailman's dog bite is $546 in medical bills, lost manpower and other expenses, according to Rademacher.

"The annual bill is well over a half-million dollars to taxpayers," he said.

Runaway Freight Jumps Tracks Inside Ashtabula

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — With no way to stop a speeding runaway freight train, Penn Central crewmen jumped for their lives Monday before the train hit a curve in Ashtabula and derailed.

One of the five diesel engines burst into flames. Sixty-five cars loaded with coal overturned, along with the engines.

No one was seriously injured. An investigator said the train lost its air supply as it approached Ashtabula and this caused the brakes to fail. The derailment tore up 1,500 feet of track and demolished a switch. It was not immediately determined what caused the accident.

Estimates of the speed as the 93-car train roared into town ranged from 50 to 75 miles per hour.

The second diesel engine caught fire but this was quickly brought under control as firemen, ambulances and rescue units rushed to the crossing.

Thousands of tons of coal were strewn across the area near the old New York Central passenger depot. All the cars were loaded with coal and east-bound from Youngstown to Bow, N.H.

The crewmen were from the Youngstown area and were to get off the train in Buffalo, N.Y.

The injured were taken to Ashtabula General Hospital where they were treated for cuts, scrapes and bruises.

They were identified as Victor Zelaski, 46, Poland, the engineer; Jesse Bohrer, 57, Hubbard, the fireman; Franklin S.

Dodd, Lowellville, a brakeman; Patrick Walsh, 54, Youngstown, the conductor, and Franklin Scott, 58, Struthers.

Also injured were Frederick Lasher, 48, Conneaut, and Orel Whitten, 52, Erie, Pa., but it was not known if they were crew members.

Bohrer and Dodd were transferred to Youngstown General Hospital.

Wrecking crews from Cleveland and Youngstown were called to the scene.

Pilgrims Bid Padre Pio Farewell; Bore Stigmata

SAN GIOVANNI ROTONDO, Italy (AP) — More than 50,000 pilgrims thronged this small southern Italian town today to pay a farewell homage to Padre Pio, the Capuchin monk with wounds like the crucified Christ.

The stout, gray-bearded priest died at his monastery near the Adriatic Sea Monday, several years after being crippled by arthritis and bronchitis. He was 81.

Last Friday, in a wheelchair, he had celebrated the 50th anniversary of the beginning of his stigmata—the bleeding wounds on his hands, feet and side.

To churches, squares and streets around the Capuchin monastery came Italians, Swiss, Austrians, English, Americans, Germans, Brazilians and Indians. Hotels and guest houses for miles were filled.

Many pilgrims prayed through the night, attending special Masses or kneeling with rosaries out on the cobblestones. The monastery was flooded with telegrams and letters from around the world.

For many Roman Catholics, Padre Pio was a living miracle. In Italy, the United States and elsewhere many said the friar had appeared to them in visions as they prayed.

Some attributed to Padre Pio the power of bilocation—of being in two places at the same time.

One priest who visited him said Padre Pio was the wit of the community, forever coming up with new jokes.

The Vatican never took a position on Padre Pio's stigmata. On three occasions from 1923 to 1931 it discouraged the faithful from visiting him. But Pope Paul VI is known to have been an admirer of the priest.

It was believed the funeral would be held Thursday or Friday. Padre Pio will be buried in the monastery.

The issues in the strike by the 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers are job security versus the right of the local board, in an experimental decentralized district, to transfer teachers it does not want.

The conflict pits the largely white union against the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican forces who seek immediate community control of local schools.

Exemptions To Spending Cuts Barred

Senate Defeats Plan To Except Farms, Medicaid

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to exempt farm price supports and Medicaid from the $6 billion federal spending cut ordered by Congress has been defeated by the Senate.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a chief sponsor of the 10 percent income tax surcharge to which the spending cut order was tied, argued before the defeat Monday that "nothing will be left of the $6 billion tax cut if you adopt this amendment."

"The Johnson administration never intended to cut expenditures if it could help it," Williams charged. "It lied to the American people when it said it would support this."

The President had said farm price supports and Medicaid were running $1.2 billion over his January estimates and if they were not exempted he would have to cut spending $7.2 billion rather than $6 billion.

The exemption proposal, in a rider to a minor House tax bill was defeated 37 to 23 with no Republicans voting in favor.

The outlook for Thursday is for fair and cooler weather as temperatures return to normal or a little below normal.

But on Monday morning, Louis Welch, an assistant superintendent of schools, went to English High and revoked the concessions.

Temperatures flared over the African garb question and some Negro parents charged their sons had been "doublecrossed" by the School Department.

Last Friday, after Negro demonstrators picketed the school, Headmaster Joseph Malone granted concessions—Negro pupils would be permitted to wear African dress. They also would be permitted to organize a student union.

But on Monday morning, Louis Welch, an assistant superintendent of schools, went to English High and revoked the concessions.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Democrat John J. Gilligan called again for law and order in a speech here today, saying, "We are not going to accept arson and looting as an expression of protest . . . we are not going to tolerate rioting in this country."

The U.S. Senate candidate told the Women's Medical and Bar Auxiliaries that the police can't be expected to encounter "automatic weapons fire from ambush as just part of a day's work."

Repeating a phrase used last week in a speech before the Cuyahoga County Bar Association, he said police are "family men—not Green Berets who volunteered for jungle warfare."

However, he noted, "Law and the machinery of law enforcement cannot be used as a weapon of repression by one segment of the society against another."

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra's opening concert scheduled for Friday night will probably be canceled because the musicians do not have a contract and have not rehearsed.

Negotiations between the Association and CSO management over a three-year contract have been at a stalemate and no new meeting times have been set up. The association rejected the latest management offer Sept. 17.

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Julius Fejes, who came to this country from Czechoslovakia when he was 12 years old, resigned Monday as president of the Crown Steel Co. in Orrville.

Fejes, 47, sold the company last year to Allen Electric & Equipment Co. of Chicago but remained as president.

Humphrey Campaign Still Not Making Him Favorite

By HARRY KELLY Associated Press Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign is showing smoke if not fire. With his quest for the presidency in its second week, the vice president drew in Toledo what appeared to be the biggest crowds of his campaign—and he was as obviously delighted as a boy with a double dip ice cream cone.

"Thank you, thank you very much," he said beamingly, pumping hands as a hundred or more persons crowded around his car Sunday outside an ice cream parlor.

Humphrey is behind and knows it. He started late and slow. Even the money, he says, is in short supply, thus his television advertising was late. He also feels the turbulence surrounding the Chicago convention hurt him in the polls.

But Humphrey, the cheerful exponent of the politics of hope, still manages to sound confident.

Wait until the middle of October, he says, then go out and cover all the Nixon money available. "We're going to win," he says.

Although Humphrey was the frontrunner, he came out of the convention without much treasury or organization. And Humphrey was disappointed in the first week of his campaign.

He sprinted from coast to coast and back—with a tailwind of disappointing crowds, hecklers and snubs from Texas Gov. John Connally and California's Jesse Unruh, as well as some well-publicized oratorical mis- cues over the party's Vietnam plank and the withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

Humphrey was tired—trying to cover too much ground, talking too long without guarding his tongue closely enough and campaigning past midnight.

The first postconvention poll results came in and Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, was still far ahead.

Even then, Humphrey saw a bright side—that now antiwar dissidents could see that their next president would be Nixon if they didn't do something for Humphrey.

More advance men then were added to his campaign to bring out the crowds. The scheduling crew was shaken up. Enough money was collected so that Humphrey could go ahead with his advertising.

Ohio Collegians Hear Hungarian

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — A prime minister of Hungary in the post World War II period told Muskingum College students Monday that the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia may bring about a crisis in Moscow.

Ference Nagy told the students that if forces favoring greater intellectual freedom win out, it could pave the way for better U.S. - Soviet understanding. However, if hard - liners win, Russia might restore close ties with Red China and intensify the cold war, Nagy said.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In television the difference between the success and failure of a series often seems to depend more on who is doing it than what is being done.

This fact of network life was demonstrated Monday night when two shows, widely separated in style, made their debuts. First there was "Here's Lucy" on CBS, followed later by "The Outcasts" on ABC.

"Here's Lucy," of course, was the unquenchable Lucille Ball playing the role she developed more than 15 years ago and which she has been playing with scarcely a breather since.

She first enchanted TV audiences with her antics in "I Love Lucy," playing a young married woman. She went right on playing the character, with a slightly different name and altered marital status, in "The Lucy Show." She has been mother of one, mother of two and mother of none, and now is back playing stage mother to her own youngsters, Lucie Arnaz and Desi Jr.

The attractive teenagers play the offspring of Lucy Carter, working widow, and like all of Lucy's TV children they help set up the situations for Lucy to be funny in.

"Here's Lucy" is no more subtle than other Ball shows and telegraphs the jokes. Miss Ball works in an employment agency, and the minute she suggests her son's rock group for a music date, old Ball watchers could see the handwriting on the wall. Sure enough, daughter Lucie turns up with laryngitis, and mother is out in front of the band, singing.

It seems that we've seen this all before—but when Lucille Ball plays it, it is valid and funny.

On quite another level—the classic Western—the ABC series, "The Outcasts" seems to be just another story about a couple of bounty hunters roaming the old post-Civil War West that never was.

But this series in its casting and the development of the two principal characters seems to have something stimulating going for it. Don Murray plays a tough Southern aristocrat and former Confederate soldier fallen upon hard times who has teamed with a former slave, played by Otis Young.

They are a pair of excellent actors playing scratchy short-fused characters. While the initial story was a plodding cliché the two performers turned it into an interesting hour.

It will be interesting to see whether Andy Griffith, whose personality was at the core of his successful series for so many seasons, can turn the show over to another actor.

The transition of "The Andy Griffith Show" to "Mayberry R.F.D." began with the latter's premiere Monday night, but since the opening episode was concerned with Andy's marriage, the test is still ahead.

Recommended tonight: "Mod Squad," premiere, ABC, 7:30-9

EDT, pilot film for a henceforth-60 minute series about three young undercover police investigators; "Lancer," premiere, CBS, 7:30-8:30, Western, with Andrew Guddan and Wayne Maunders; "The Doris Day Show," premiere, CBS, 9:30-10, situation comedy with Miss Day playing a widow with two children; "That's Life," premiere, ABC, 10-11, musical comedy series with Robert Morse.

The Journal Herald said Monday that Saxbe offers "a measure of liberalism in Ohio's Republican party at the state level," adding that liberalism is "the tradition of the American people and their republic."

Sunday, the Plain Dealer said, "Bill Saxbe is the type of progressive, forward-looking Republican who can serve the people of Ohio with great distinction in the Senate."

GM Boosts Auto Prices 1.6 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, giant of the auto industry, today announced price increases which averaged $49, or nearly 50 per cent under figures announced by Chrysler last week.

GM Board Chairman James M. Roche denied there had been any pressure from Washington sources to get General Motors to come in with a smaller figure than Chrysler had done as the 1969 cars headed toward the market.

"There were frank discussions in Washington, but I assure you General Motors' decision as usual was made by General Motors people before we even went to Washington," Roche told a news conference.

General Motors, in figuring out its $49, or 1.6 per cent per car price boost, used list price figures, those which the companies charge its dealers. Chrysler, which was the first of the auto companies to post its new list prices had figured the increases at $84, or 2.9 per cent over its 1968 list prices.

The prices as announced by General Motors did not include federal excise tax and dealer handling and preparation charges. Those items are included on the so-called sticker price which a buyer would find on a car in his dealer's showroom.

Working from that sticker price, GM's average increase would be $52 or 1.6 per cent, contrasted with an $89 or 2.5 per cent increase which Chrysler used on its sticker prices this year.

Roche, in explaining GM's decision to use list prices in its formal announcement to the press, said "confusion sometimes results from the various elements that are combined when one is figuring out different types of auto prices."

In a surprise move, GM reversed its decision to have federally required headrests included in its price tags on announcement day Thursday.

"We had announced that the headrests would be on all the cars and would be included in the price, but for competitive reasons we have had to make them an option until Jan. 1, 1969," Roche said.

This referred to Chrysler's marketing strategy in making the new safety headrests an optional price item at $26 until the date the federal government says they have to be installed.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Very Generous With Her Rube

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that I am 46 years old and my husband, Rube, is 52. I have a dear friend about my age who lost her husband 4 years ago, and she's had a bad case of nerves ever since. She told me that her doctor told her that all she needed was a man.

Now I hope you won't think I'm a terrible person, Abby, but when my friend kind of hinted around that she would like to borrow my Rube once in a while to quiet her nerves, I really didn't see anything so wrong with it.

To tell you the truth, I never was very affectionate, and I always felt like Rube got cheated in that department somewhat.

No one would have to know. Do you think I'm crazy?

RUBE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know whether you're "crazy" or not, but I do think your generosity is unbelievable. Perhaps, you'd better consult Rube. You could be playing a dangerous game. If Rube is going to be "lent out" for therapeutic purposes, maybe he knows some other needy cases of "nerves" that need "quieting."

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old daughter has been asked to go with a 35-year-old father and his children, ages 8 and 11, to the state fair for several days. The wife is unable to go. My daughter would look after the children while the father attended to fair business. They would all four sleep nights in a camper in one small room.

Fire Destroys Evendale Complex

CINCINNATI (AP) — Burdened by heavy smoke and exploding aerosol cans, about 50 firemen fought a blaze for several hours Monday that nearly destroyed a nine-business complex in suburban Evendale.

No one was injured in the multi-alarm fire, but some firemen suffered minor smoke inhalation.

Damage was expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

I feel that this is not at all proper. My daughter and husband think I am completely wrong. I am not saying that the man is not nice or anything like that. I just feel for the sake of common decency my daughter shouldn't agree to such sleeping arrangements. I would appreciate your views.

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I vote with you.

DEAR ABBY: We have a beautiful home, financial security, good kids, and a good social life. "So, what's the problem?" you ask.

We also have a "Fatso" at the head of our house. How can we make him understand that women like their men strong and lean-not soft and fat?

My man doesn't do a lick of work around the house, and his job permits him to sit down most of the time. He goes to a gym occasionally, but comes home and eats everything in sight. I either hide the goodies or don't buy them, but he manages to keep his belly loaded.

His clothes wear out too fast. He looks 15 years older than he is, and I am not interested in his insurance money.

Frankly, he is getting unbearable. Please print this, Abby, to help fat men realize that they are losing their lives before they die by being so weak, lazy, and hogish.

WEARING THIN

CONFIDENTIAL TO TERRY: Don't go for a "now or never" kind of proposal. Insist on time in which to think it over. If he isn't willing to wait, it's a good bet that the marriage should never take place. Or would you rather be a divorcee at age 20?

Eye Quota Plan To Hike Negro College Body

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposal that state-supported universities set minimum quotas on the number of black students admitted was discussed Monday at a meeting of university presidents here.

John D. Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, said the proposal is one of several that his staff has included in a "Proposed Development Program of Higher Education Opportunity for Black Americans."

The proposal calls for attempts, including recruitment and financial aid, to have Negroes make up at least 5 per cent of each freshman class.

The quotas would stand regardless of how prospective Negro students scored on various college aptitude tests, as some schools use in choosing students, Millett said.

Gilligan Says Nixon's The One

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — It may have been a slip of the tongue, but John J. Gilligan referred to Richard M. Nixon Monday night as "presumably" the next president.

Speaking before a civic political forum of about 200 persons, Gilligan, the Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, said he hoped U.S. Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas would be confirmed as chief justice.

Reporters present said Gilligan called for speedy approval of Fortas before the next president—"presumably Mr. Nixon"—could enter into the dispute and name a chief justice not acceptable to Democrats.

Saxbe Gets Backing By 2 Papers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — With the endorsement of two major Ohio newspapers tucked away, William B. Saxbe called for an entirely new concept of education and assistance programs in a speech here Monday night.

Ohio's Republican attorney general, running for the U.S. Senate, told the Akron Kiwanis Club that a lack of education coupled with unemployment has weakened the opportunity of millions of self-improvement.

Saxbe said local school systems and federal assistance programs should be aimed at providing technical and vocational training to capture the interest of the drop-out minded.

"Many of our students simply are not interested in a classic high school-college preparatory education," Saxbe said. "We must adjust our training system so that 100 per cent of our young people are receiving education preparing them for 100 per cent of the available jobs."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Dayton Journal Herald endorsed Saxbe over his Democratic opponent, John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati.

The Journal Herald said Monday that Saxbe offers "a measure of liberalism in Ohio's Republican party at the state level," adding that liberalism is "the tradition of the American people and their republic."

Sunday, the Plain Dealer said, "Bill Saxbe is the type of progressive, forward-looking Republican who can serve the people of Ohio with great distinction in the Senate."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—In television the difference between the success and failure of a series often seems to depend more on who is doing it than what is being done.

This fact of network life was demonstrated Monday night when two shows, widely separated in style, made their debuts. First there was "Here's Lucy" on CBS, followed later by "The Outcasts" on ABC.

"Here's Lucy," of course, was the unquenchable Lucille Ball playing the role she developed more than 15 years ago and which she has been playing with scarcely a breather since.

She first enchanted TV audiences with her antics in "I Love Lucy," playing a young married woman. She went right on playing the character, with a slightly different name and altered marital status, in "The Lucy Show." She has been mother of one, mother of two and mother of none, and now is back playing stage mother to her own youngsters, Lucie Arnaz and Desi Jr.

The attractive teenagers play the offspring of Lucy Carter, working widow, and like all of Lucy's TV children they help set up the situations for Lucy to be funny in.

"Here's Lucy" is no more subtle than other Ball shows and telegraphs the jokes. Miss Ball works in an employment agency, and the minute she suggests her son's rock group for a music date, old Ball watchers could see the handwriting on the wall. Sure enough, daughter Lucie turns up with laryngitis, and mother is out in front of the band, singing.

It seems that we've seen this all before—but when Lucille Ball plays it, it is valid and funny.

On quite another level—the classic Western—the ABC series, "The Outcasts," seems to be just another story about a couple of bounty hunters roaming the old post-Civil War West that never was.

But this series in its casting and the development of the two principal characters seems to have something stimulating going for it. Don Murray plays a tough Southern aristocrat and former Confederate soldier fallen upon hard times who has teamed with a former slave, played by Otis Young.

They are a pair of excellent actors playing scratchy short-fused characters. While the initial story was a plodding cliché the two performers turned it into an interesting hour.

It will be interesting to see whether Andy Griffith, whose personality was at the core of his successful series for so many seasons, can turn the show over to another actor.

The transition of "The Andy Griffith Show" to "Mayberry R.F.D." began with the latter's premiere Monday night, but since the opening episode was concerned with Andy's marriage, the test is still ahead.

Recommended tonight: "Mod Squad," premiere, ABC, 7:30-9 EDT, pilot film for a henceforth-60 minute series about three young undercover police investigators; "Lancer," premiere, CBS, 7:30-8:30, Western, with Andrew Guddan and Wayne Maunder; "The Doris Day Show," premiere, CBS, 9:30-10, situation comedy with Miss Day playing a widow with two children; "That's Life," premiere, ABC, 10-11, musical comedy series with Robert Morse.

The Journal Herald said Monday that Saxbe offers "a measure of liberalism in Ohio's Republican party at the state level," adding that liberalism is "the tradition of the American people and their republic."

Sunday, the Plain Dealer said, "Bill Saxbe is the type of progressive, forward-looking Republican who can serve the people of Ohio with great distinction in the Senate."

GM Boosts Auto Prices 1.6 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors, giant of the auto industry, today announced price increases which averaged $49, or nearly 50 per cent under figures announced by Chrysler last week.

GM Board Chairman James M. Roche denied there had been any pressure from Washington sources to get General Motors to come in with a smaller figure than Chrysler had done as the 1969 cars headed toward the market.

"There were frank discussions in Washington, but I assure you General Motors' decision as usual was made by General Motors people before we even went to Washington," Roche told a news conference.

General Motors, in figuring out its $49, or 1.6 per cent per car price boost, used list price figures, those which the companies charge its dealers. Chrysler, which was the first of the auto companies to post its new list prices had figured the increases at $84, or 2.9 per cent over its 1968 list prices.

The prices as announced by General Motors did not include federal excise tax and dealer handling and preparation charges. Those items are included on the so-called sticker price which a buyer would find on a car in his dealer's showroom.

Working from that sticker price, GM's average increase would be $52 or 1.6 per cent, contrasted with an $89 or 2.5 per cent increase which Chrysler used on its sticker prices this year.

Roche, in explaining GM's decision to use list prices in its formal announcement to the press, said "confusion sometimes results from the various elements that are combined when one is figuring out different types of auto prices."

In a surprise move, GM reversed its decision to have federally required headrests included in its price tags on announcement day Thursday.

"We had announced that the headrests would be on all the cars and would be included in the price, but for competitive reasons we have had to make them an option until Jan. 1, 1969," Roche said.

This referred to Chrysler's marketing strategy in making the new safety headrests an optional price item at $26 until the date the federal government says they have to be installed.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Very Generous With Her Rube

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that I am 46 years old and my husband, Rube, is 52. I have a dear friend about my age who lost her husband 4 years ago, and she's had a bad case of nerves ever since. She told me that her doctor told her that all she needed was a man.

Now I hope you won't think I'm a terrible person, Abby, but when my friend kind of hinted around that she would like to borrow my Rube once in a while to quiet her nerves. I really didn't see anything so wrong with it.

To tell you the truth, I never was very affectionate, and I always felt like Rube got cheated in that department somewhat.

No one would have to know. Do you think I'm crazy?

RUBE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know whether you're "crazy" or not, but I do think your generosity is unbelievable. Perhaps, you'd better consult Rube. You could be playing a dangerous game. If Rube is going to be "lent out" for therapeutic purposes, maybe he knows some other needy cases of "nerves" that need "quieting."

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old daughter has been asked to go with a 35-year-old father and his children, ages 8 and 11, to the state fair for several days. The wife is unable to go. My daughter would look after the children while the father attended to fair business. They would all four sleep nights in a camper in one small room.

Fire Destroys Evendale Complex

CINCINNATI (AP)—Burdened by heavy smoke and exploding aerosol cans, about 50 firemen fought a blaze for several hours Monday that nearly destroyed a nine-business complex in suburban Evendale.

No one was injured in the multi-alarm fire, but some firemen suffered minor smoke inhalation.

Damage was expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

I feel that this is not at all proper. My daughter and husband think I am completely wrong. I am not saying that the man is not nice or anything like that. I just feel for the sake of common decency my daughter shouldn't agree to such sleeping arrangements. I would appreciate your views.

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I vote with you. DEAR ABBY: We have a beautiful home, financial security, good kids, and a good social life. "So, what's the problem?" you ask.

We also have a "Fats" at the head of our house. How can we make him understand that women like their men strong and lean-not soft and fat?

My man doesn't do a lick of work around the house, and his job permits him to sit down most of the time. He goes to a gym occasionally, but comes home and eats everything in sight. I either hide the goodies or don't buy them, but he manages to keep his belly loaded.

His clothes wear out too fast. He looks 15 years older than he is, and I am not interested in his insurance money.

Frankly, he is getting unbearable. Please print this, Abby, to help fat men realize that they are losing their lives before they die by being so weak, lazy, and hoggish.

WEARING THIN

CONFIDENTIAL TO TERRY: Don't go for a "now or never" kind of proposal. Insist on time in which to think it over. If he isn't willing to wait, it's a good bet that the marriage should never take place. Or would you rather be a divorcee at age 20?

Eye Quota Plan To Hike Negro College Body

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposal that state-supported universities set minimum quotas on the number of black students admitted was discussed Monday at a meeting of university presidents here.

John D. Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, said the proposal is one of several that his staff has included in a "Proposed Development Program of Higher Education Opportunity for Black Americans."

The proposal calls for attempts, including recruitment and financial aid, to have Negroes make up at least 5 per cent of each freshman class.

The quotas would stand regardless of how prospective Negro students scored on various college aptitude tests, as some schools use in choosing students, Millett said.

Gilligan Says Nixon's The One

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—It may have been a slip of the tongue, but John J. Gilligan referred to Richard M. Nixon Monday night as "presumably" the next president.

Speaking before a civic political forum of about 200 persons, Gilligan, the Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, said he hoped U.S. Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas would be confirmed as chief justice.

Reporters present said Gilligan called for speedy approval of Fortas before the next president—"presumably Mr. Nixon"—could enter into the dispute and name a chief justice not acceptable to Democrats.

SCO League Football Teams Begin Title Fight Friday

With pre-league football games completed, the South Central Ohio League teams open race for the league title this Friday.

Defending champion Circleville hosts Hillsboro, long a doormat for the rest of the league; Washington C.H., one of the pre-season picks to wrest the crown from Circleville hosts Miami Trace, and a surprising Wilmington Hurricane hosts Greenfield.

The SCOL teams have not fared so well this year against non-league opposition. Collectively the six teams have won eight and lost ten.

Greenfield, a team that many thought would be battling Washington for the 1968 title, has accounted for three of those losses, dropping games to London of the Mid Eight League, Jackson of the Southeastern Ohio League and Chillicothe of the Central Ohio League.

Kelso, Kline Trade Wins In Twinbill

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Relief pitchers Bill Kelso and Ron Kline played a perfect draw Monday as the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates split a two-night doubleheader.

In the first game, Cincinnati's Kelso strode off Forbes Field a winner while Kline walked off a loser. Three hours later, they reversed roles. Kline took the winner's smile and Kelso, the loser's frown.

Kelso picked up his fourth victory of the season as the Reds exploded for six runs in the final inning of the opener to defeat the Pirates 9-6.

Vada Pinson gave Cincinnati the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded single. Tony Perez and Fred Whitfield each drove in two runs in the inning.

The loss snuffed the Pirates' hope of moving into a tie for third place with Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh came back to win the second game 2-1 in 10 innings but they needed a sweep to advance in the standings.

The Pirates broke a 1-1 tie in the nightcap on a walk and singles by Matty Alou and Manny Mota. Kline, who worked one inning, picked up his 12th victory against five defeats.

The hit by Alou gave him five for ten for the doubleheader and moved him to within three points of Cincinnati's Pete Rose in the race for the league batting title. Rose had one hit in six attempts, bringing his average to .336.

A small but tough Wilmington squad has been a pleasant surprise for its fans. After losing a close 16-14 decision to strong Hamilton Taft, the Hurricane has defeated Cincinnati with throw and Miami Trace to emerge as a strong contender for the title.

The favored Blue Lions of Washington have defeated independent class A school Clinton Massie, Chillicothe of the COL and have lost to Metropolitan League school Franklin Heights.

The defending champs, Circleville, have lost two close ones to Grove City, by two points, and to Walnut Ridge, by seven. The Tigers' only win is over Teays Valley.

Hillsboro, the league's cellar-dweller for the past three years, shows signs of reviving. The Indians from Highland County defeated Blanchester in the second game of the season. It was the first win in 15 starts for Hillsboro. They have been defeated by Lebanon and Franklin.

Miami Trace lost the first game of the season to Springfield Northeastern, but has defeated Pleasant View and Dublin, two Franklin County schools.

Circleville has a slight advantage in the league schedule this year. After opening against Hillsboro, the Tigers play Greenfield, McClain and Miami Trace before meeting Washington and Wilmington, the two apparent powers at this stage of the season.

ATLANTA (AP) — The captain and assistant manager of the Atlanta Chiefs, 34-year-old Vic Crowe, plans to bid the team goodbye after the North American Soccer League championship game with the San Diego Toros Saturday.

Purdue Holds 1st Place; Fighting Irish 2nd

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Poised and polished Purdue held on to first place—but that was about the only thing unchanged Tuesday in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Notre Dame, fresh from a 45-21 opening blitz of Oklahoma, took over the runner up spot, trading places with No. 3 Southern California.

And, the shakeup was even more drastic from there on down as only No. 7 Alabama remained in the same position it had a week ago.

The Boilermakers, opening with a 44-7 rout of Virginia, attracted 25 of the 49 first-place votes for 888 points—only 24 more than Notre Dame, named first on 19 ballots.

It produces quite a storybook setting for the showdown between the two giants at South Bend, Ind., this weekend.

Southern California, which had to fight off No. 17 Minnesota for a 29-20 triumph in its opener, drew only four top votes, but amassed enough second and third place picks to roll up 794 points.

Penn State galloped all the way from 10th to fourth after spilling Navy 31-6 and Florida advanced a notch to fifth despite a 23-20 escape with the Air Force.

Texas slipped from fourth to sixth after a 20-20 standoff with No. 10 Houston, followed by Alabama (14-7 victory over Virginia Tech in its opener) and UCLA, up all the way to eighth from a tie for 16th after a 63-7 humiliation of Pittsburgh.

Nebraska, thumping Utah 31-0 for its second straight, jumped from 14th to ninth place.

Ohio State, yet to play a game, headed up the second 10, while Kansas, Arizona State and Wyoming cracked into the top 20 for the first time.

Oklahoma, ranked fifth a week ago, disappeared from the rankings following the loss to the Irish, as did losers Texas A&M and Georgia.

The top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

Hope Dr. Fager And Damascus May Clash Again

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The owner of Damascus accepted an invitation today to compete in the Washington, D.C. International, setting up a possible rubber match with Dr. Fager for American Horse of the Year honors.

Laurel Race Course, site of the $150,000 International on Nov. 11, announced the acceptance by Thomas Bancroft, husband of Edith W. Bancroft, owner of Damascus.

Dr. Fager, who has split four meetings with Damascus during the past two years, also was invited by the American Selection Board to represent the United States against foreign entries in the 1½-mile turf race.

John Nerud, part owner and trainer of Dr. Fager, who has complained that Damascus needs his stablemate Hedevar as a pacesetter to kill off the opposition, didn't readily accept the bid.

Rigney Signs New Contract

ANAHEIM (AP) — Bill Rigney is sticking with the slumping California Angels, and with his longest contract since the American League club was formed in 1961 with Rigney as field manager.

The 50-year-old skipper was rehired Monday. Informed sources said he will be paid $60,000 a year.

The Angels also announced the hiring of Dick Walsh, former commissioner of the North American Soccer League, as league general manager. He replaces Fred Haney, who at 70 is stepping down.

Before Monday's announcement there were rumors that Rigney would return as manager of the San Francisco Giants. He managed the Giants in New York in 1956 and came West with the club. He was fired June 18, 1960, as manager in San Francisco.

Hayes Says SMU Not A Pushover For Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes isn't taking anything for granted — including preseason polls — in Saturday's game against Southern Methodist.

The Buckeyes' mentor is looking for a victory in the first game of the season, but he predicted Monday the encounter would be "a real first game."

Assistant coaches Lou Holtz and Esco Sarkkinen, who scouted the SMU Mustangs in last week's 37-28 win over Auburn, said two-touchdown favorite Auburn had to score 21 points in the final quarter "to look respectable." They said the Texans were vastly underrated.

Hayes told a luncheon for newsmen that his 18th edition of the Buckeyes are looking for a good year and will make a strong bid for the Big Ten title.

He said the Buckeyes are in good condition, including starting quarterback Rex Kern, who has made excellent recovery from a spinal disc operation.

The only questionable spot on the team is defensive right end. Nick Roman of Canton will not fill the position in the opener and may not see much action this year, Hayes said. The 221-pound letterman received a knee injury last summer.

Holtz and Sarkkinen said SMU's speedy halfback Jerry "The Jet" Levas and quarterback Chuck Hixon will bear a lot of watching Saturday.

Hixon connected on 27 of 48 passes against Auburn and was described by the scouts as a "razzle d a z z l e" quarterback who can "throw it anywhere from anywhere."

They said the 170-pound Levas is a threat as a pass receiver, occasionally on passing and on punt and kickoff returns. Holtz also spoke highly of right end Ken Fleming's pass receiving ability.

Hayes will be sending nine sophomore starters into Saturday's game, five on defense and four on offense, including quarterback Kern.

Dick Merryman, Hannibal junior, a walk-on transfer from Miami, will do the place kicking. Sensibaugh and Kevin Rusnak, Garfield, N. J., junior, will share punting duties.

Vada Pinson gave Cincinnati the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded single. Tony Perez and Fred Whitfield each drove in two runs in the inning.

The loss snuffed the Pirates' hope of moving into a tie for third place with Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh came back to win the second game 2-1 in 10 innings but they needed a sweep to advance in the standings.

The Pirates broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth on a walk and singles by Matty Alou and Manny Mota. Kline, who worked one inning, picked up his 12th victory against five defeats.

The hit by Alou gave him five for ten for the doubleheader and moved him to within three points of Cincinnati's Pete Rose in the race for the league batting title. Rose had one hit in six attempts, bringing his average to .336.

Russell Inks 2-Year Pact For $400,000

BOSTON (AP) — Big Bill Russell, awarded a package contract of more than $400,000 to continue as player-coach of the Boston Celtics the next two years, predicts another championship but admits he has one problem.

"I have a fat center," Russell said in chiding himself Monday before he signed his contract.

Russell, who will be 35 in February, is about 20 pounds over his playing weight of 220 but plans to round into shape quickly.

"We open a 12-game exhibition schedule against Atlanta in Salem, Va., Tuesday night," he said. "We'll practice every morning and play games at night. That should get us into shape."

The 6-9½ Russell, who has led Boston to 10 National Basketball Association championships in 12 years with the club, signed a two-year, no cut contract worked out by his attorney, Morris Kirsner, and Celtics General Manager Red Auerbach.

The contract provides for slightly more than $205,000 a year. Russell received a substantial pay hike for leading the Celtics to the title in his second year as player-coach last spring. His old contract called for a reported $150,000 a year.

Asked about the Celtics' chances for another title this season, the player who revolutionized pro basketball with his brilliant defensive play said:

"We should continue to do business as usual. This is one of our better teams in the last five years. It could be a real good one. With any kind of luck, we should wind up in first place."

Tiny Republic In Olympics

SAN MARINO (AP) — Tiny San Marino is sending five athletes to the Olympic Games—but more for the advertising than the medals.

This is the first time that the world's smallest and most picturesque republic has entered the Olympics outside of nearby Italy.

"By this we hope to draw some world attention to San Marino," Luigi Lonfermini, sports and tourism commissioner, the local equivalent of a minister, said today.

"We have never had a good opportunity for propaganda in America before."

Purdue Holds 1st Place; Fighting Irish 2nd

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Poised and polished Purdue held on to first place—but that was about the only thing unchanged Tuesday in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Notre Dame, fresh from a 45-21 opening blitz of Oklahoma, took over the runner up spot, trading places with No. 3 Southern California.

And, the shakeup was even more drastic from there on down as only No. 7 Alabama remained in the same position it had a week ago.

The Boilermakers, opening with a 44-7 rout of Virginia, attracted 25 of the 49 first-place votes for 888 points—only 24 more than Notre Dame, named first on 19 ballots.

It produces quite a storybook setting for the showdown between the two giants at South Bend, Ind., this weekend.

Southern California, which had to fight off No. 17 Minnesota for a 29-20 triumph in its opener, drew only four top votes, but amassed enough second and third place picks to roll up 794 points.

Penn State galloped all the way from 10th to fourth after spilling Navy 31-6 and Florida advanced a notch to fifth despite a 23-20 escape with the Air Force.

Texas slipped from fourth to sixth after a 20-20 standoff with No. 10 Houston, followed by Alabama (14-7 victory over Virginia Tech in its opener) and UCLA, up all the way to eighth from a tie for 16th after a 63-7 humiliation of Pittsburgh.

Nebraska, thumping Utah 31-0 for its second straight, jumped from 14th to ninth place.

Ohio State, yet to play a game, headed up the second 10, while Kansas, Arizona State and Wyoming cracked into the top 20 for the first time.

Oklahoma, ranked fifth a week ago, disappeared from the

Hayes Says SMU Not A Pushover For Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes isn't taking anything for granted — including preseason polls — in Saturday's game against Southern Methodist.

The Buckeyes' mentor is looking for a victory in the first game of the season, but he predicted Monday the encounter would be "a real first game."

Assistant coaches Lou Holtz and Esco Sarkkinen, who scouted the SMU Mustangs in last week's 37-28 win over Auburn, said two-touchdown favorite Auburn had to score 21 points in the final quarter "to look respectable." They said the Texans were vastly underrated.

Hayes told a luncheon for newsmen that his 18th edition of the Buckeyes are looking for a good year and will make a strong bid for the Big Ten title.

He said the Buckeyes are in good condition, including starting quarterback Rex Kern, who has made excellent recovery from a spinal disc operation.

The only questionable spot on the team is defensive right end, Nick Roman of Canton will not fill the position in the opener and may not see much action this year, Hayes said. The 221-pound letterman received a knee injury last summer.

Holtz and Sarkkinen said SMU's speedy halfback Jerry "The Jet" Levas and quarterback Chuck Hixon will bear a lot of watching Saturday.

Hixon connected on 27 of 48 passes against Auburn and was described by the scouts as a "razzle d a z z l e" quarterback who can "throw it anywhere from anywhere."

They said the 170-pound Levas is a threat as a pass receiver, occasionally on passing and on punt and kickoff returns. Holtz also spoke highly of right end Ken Fleming's pass receiving ability.

Hayes will be sending nine sophomore starters into Saturday's game, five on defense and four on offense, including quarterback Kern.

Hope Dr. Fager And Damascus May Clash Again

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The owner of Damascus accepted an invitation today to compete in the Washington, D.C. International, setting up a possible rubber match with Dr. Fager for American Horse of the Year honors.

Laurel Race Course, site of the $150,000 International on Nov. 11, announced the acceptance by Thomas Bancroft, husband of Edith W. Bancroft, owner of Damascus.

Dr. Fager, who has split four meetings with Damascus during the past two years, also was invited by the American Selection Board to represent the United States against foreign entries in the 1 1/4-mile turf race.

John Nerud, part owner and trainer of Dr. Fager, who has complained that Damascus needs his stablemate Hedevar as a pacesetter to kill off the opposition, didn't readily accept the bid.

A kid's got a right to some privacy too.

If your kid's been hiding out lately when he gets on the phone, take the hint. There are probably some things he'd rather discuss without an audience around. And he's entitled. After all, asking a girl out at his age is hard enough. But when the whole family's listening in, a guy could freeze.

Help loosen young Don Juan's tongue. Call your General Telephone business office and get him an extension phone. Then he can have his tête-à-têtes without feeling self-conscious.

When a kid feels you don't want to listen in on all his private conversations, he's more apt to tell you about them. An extension phone gives him that choice.

Orioles Trip McLain, 2-1

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain might be the first 31-game winner since 1931, but to the Baltimore Orioles, he's just another losing pitcher.

The 24-year-old right-hander is 29-3 against the other eight teams in the American League, but against Baltimore he is 2-3 after the Orioles edged him 2-1 Monday night, making them the only club with an edge on McLain.

The loss also left McLain with just one more chance to win No. 32 and become the winningest pitcher in the major leagues since Grover Alexander in 1916. He is scheduled to pitch five innings Saturday as a tuneup for next Wednesday's World Series opener against St. Louis.

In other games on an abbreviated schedule starting the last week of the season, Washington tripped Boston 6-5 in 14 innings, Minnesota and Dean Chance blanked California 3-0 and Oakland defeated The Chicago White Sox 5-1 in the American League. Cincinnati overcame Pittsburgh 9-6 before losing 2-1 in 10 innings in the only National League game.

McLain, who had won six straight, did not fall easily to the Orioles, who need one more victory to clinch second place behind the pennant-winning Tigers. He gave up only five hits, and one of the runs off him was unearned, before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

He also struck out four, breaking Hal Newhouse's club record of 275 strike outs in one season. McLain has 276.

But rookie Roger Nelson, with relief from Pete Richert, outdid the Detroit ace. Nelson shut out the Tigers on three hits until singles by Don Wert and pinch hitter Eddie Mathews drove him out in the eighth.

With the Tigers threatening to pull out their 40th late inning victory, Richert entered and struck out Dick McAuliffe before Dave Johnson's error on a grounder let in Detroit's run. But Richert got Jim Northrup and Norm Cash to ground out to get out of the jam.

Mickey Stanley, an outfielder being tried at shortstop, set up Baltimore's first run in the opening inning with a throwing error. Boog Powell's two-out single drove it in. Don Buford knocked in the decisive run in the seventh with a bloop double. Boston, trying to hang onto third place had a five winning streak ended by the Senators on Ken McMullen's run-scoring hit in the 14th after a walk, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Frank Howard.

Each team had scored in the 11th after Cap Peterson helped Washington back from a 4-0 deficit with his third homer. Boston is now only a half game ahead of Cleveland.

Chance struck out seven and walked none as he stifled the Angels for his 16th victory against 15 losses. Rookie Pat Kelly backed him with his first major league homer and a run-scoring double and Harmon Killebrew added his 15th homer.

Jim Nash was the whole show for Oakland as he highlighted a five-run fourth inning with a two-run double and then protected it with a six-hitter. Nash, 13-12, retired 15 consecutive batters during one stretch.

Cincinnati scored six times in the ninth inning of the two-light game as Fred Whitfield doubled home two runs for a tie, Vada Pinson singled in the leading marker and Tony Perez added two more with a single.

But Manny Mota's pinch hit single won the nightcap for the Pirates in the first extra inning. Bill Kelo won the first game and lost the second, while Ron Kline lost the first and won the second.

Mayo Smith Experimenting As World Series Nears

BALTIMORE (AP) — No one can accuse Manager Mayo Smith of becoming complacent since his Detroit Tigers won the American League pennant.

With the World Series against the St. Louis Cardinals due to open in eight days, Smith is conducting an experiment to determine if center fielder Mickey Stanley can play shortstop.

"I just want to get another bat into the line-up," Smith said of his bizarre, last-minute scheme which would tamper with what is considered baseball's pivotal defensive spot.

If Stanley, one of the better center fielders in the league, provides to Smith's satisfaction he can handle shortstop, veteran Al Kaline would be inserted the Detroit outfield with Willie Horton and Jim Northrup.

Otherwise, Tom Matchick will play shortstop. Stanley goes back to center and Kaline to the bench. Although he has missed 60 games due to injuries, Kaline tops the regular outfielders with a .292 batting average.

"Why not make the change?" Smith countered a question Monday night after Stanley's throwing error from shortstop led to an unearned Baltimore run as the Orioles beat the Tigers and 31-game winner Dennis McLain 2-1.

"I'm going to start Stanley at short the rest of the way," Smith said, "and if I think he can handle it, I'll use him there in the World Series."

While he is willing to experiment in the field, Smith is standing pat with his starting pitchers for the Cardinals—leading with McLain and followed by Earl Wilson and Mickey Lolich, in either order.

Bobby Nichols New Pro At Firestone CC

AKRON — Bobby Nichols, 1964 PGA Champion and winner of the PGA team championship Sunday in Oklahoma City, will become the head professional at Firestone Country Club here effective Nov. 1.

The appointment was announced by A. E. Brubaker, director of public relations for The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

Present head pro Alex Redl will announce his future plans soon.

The 32-year-old Nichols became a professional golfer in 1959 and has been a tour regular since 1960. His duties at Firestone will include supervision of the new pro shop now under construction and golf instruction to Firestone Country Club members. In the off season he will serve in a public relations capacity for the Country Club and the Company. He will continue to play in major golf tournaments including the American Golf Classic at Firestone.

Holder of eight tour titles, Nichols' biggest year came in 1964 when he captured the coveted PGA Championship at Columbus (Ohio) Country Club and the Carling World Open at Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, Mich. His 271 total score in the PGA is still a record for that tournament.

Firestone Country Club is the home of the American Golf Classic and World Series of Golf as well as the 1967 and 1968 CBS Golf Classics. Currently the 1969 CBS Golf Classic is being video taped at Firestone. Nichols will be competing in the event on Oct. 3 with his partner Ray Floyd.

Firestone is in the process of building a new 18-hole championship course across the street from the present South Course. The new North Course, as well as the pro shop and an expansion of present clubhouse facilities, are expected to be completed by next Spring.

Detroit Lions May Be Team To Beat In NFL Grid Wars

DETROIT (AP) — Earl McCullough of the Detroit Lions is preaching the gospel of happiness. "How sweet it is" and so on.

And the rookie split end who runs 100 yards "in about 9.3" said today the Lions could go all the way.

Certainly there are some believers around the National Football League, particularly the Chicago Bears, who limped home Sunday after absorbing a 42-0 whipping at the hands of the Lions. The extent of the victory was perhaps especially surprising in that the week before the Dallas Cowboys had demolished Detroit 59-13.

One of the Chicago quarterbacks, Larry Rakestraw, noted after the defeat, "They've got a different team. Sure, Bill Munson's an important factor, but that McCullough could be most important.

"With him out there, nobody will be able to concentrate to much on the quarterback or the other backs."

"We've gotten a big boost now that we've got one victory under our belts," McCullough said. "And I think we could go all the way."

"We've got men in needed positions to make a bonafide effort ... Mel Farr, Bill Triplett and myself. More scoring power."

The speedy end, who played college ball at Southern California, earned his high marks Sunday by grabbing two Munson passes. He praised Munson's accurate passing and leadership. Munson appeared Sunday in his first game with the Lions after being traded from the Los Angeles Rams. He missed the Dallas game because of sore chest muscles.

Bobby Nichols New Pro At Firestone CC

AKRON — Bobby Nichols, 1964 PGA Champion and winner of the PGA team championship Sunday in Oklahoma City, will become the head professional at Firestone Country Club here effective Nov. 1.

The appointment was announced by A. E. Brubaker, director of public relations for The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

Present head pro Alex Redl will announce his future plans soon.

The 32-year-old Nichols became a professional golfer in 1959 and has been a tour regular since 1960. His duties at Firestone will include supervision of the new pro shop now under construction and golf instruction to Firestone Country Club members. In the off season he will serve in a public relations capacity for the Country Club and the Company. He will continue to play in major golf tournaments including the American Golf Classic at Firestone.

Holder of eight tour titles, Nichols' biggest year came in 1964 when he captured the coveted PGA Championship at Columbus (Ohio) Country Club and the Carling World Open at Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, Mich. His 271 total score in the PGA is still a record for that tournament.

Firestone Country Club is the home of the American Golf Classic and World Series of Golf as well as the 1967 and 1968 CBS Golf Classics. Currently the 1969 CBS Golf Classic is being video taped at Firestone. Nichols will be competing in the event on Oct. 3 with his partner Ray Floyd.

Firestone is in the process of building a new 18-hole championship course across the street from the present South Course. The new North Course, as well as the pro shop and an expansion of present clubhouse facilities, are expected to be completed by next Spring.

Detroit Lions May Be Team To Beat In NFL Grid Wars

DETROIT (AP) — Earl McCullough of the Detroit Lions is preaching the gospel of happiness. "How sweet it is" and so on.

And the rookie split end who runs 100 yards "in about 9.3" said today the Lions could go all the way.

Certainly there are some believers around the National Football League, particularly the Chicago Bears, who limped home Sunday after absorbing a 42-0 whipping at the hands of the Lions. The extent of the victory was perhaps especially surprising in that the week before the Dallas Cowboys had demolished Detroit 59-13.

One of the Chicago quarterbacks, Larry Rakestraw, noted after the defeat, "They've got a different team. Sure, Bill Munson's an important factor, but that McCullough could be most important."

"With him out there, nobody will be able to concentrate to much on the quarterback or the other backs."

"We've gotten a big boost now that we've got one victory under our belts," McCullough said. "And I think we could go all the way."

"We've got men in needed positions to make a bonafide effort... Mel Farr, Bill Triplett and myself. More scoring power."

The speedy end, who played college ball at Southern California, earned his high marks Sunday by grabbing two Munson passes. He praised Munson's accurate passing and leadership. Munson appeared Sunday in his first game with the Lions after being traded from the Los Angeles Rams. He missed the Dallas game because of sore chest muscles.

JACKSON SCHOOL — A school has been part of the village of Fox since 1807 when one was established by the township trustees at the trustee's meeting place on Strawberry Prairie, new site of the local air field. The present structure holds 300 children.

TOWNSHIP BUILDING — Located near the center of Fox is the Jackson Twp. building. Besides being used by the trustees for meetings the building doubles as a polling place at election time.

The road sign reads simply "Fox" but to local residents it is Fox Postoffice despite the fact that there hasn't been a postoffice there for over 50 years.

The village is located at the intersection of Route 104 and Florence Chapel Road overlooking the banks of Big Darby Creek. The creek was once a popular fishing spot for sportsmen from all over the state. Warren G. Harding was reportedly a frequent visitor to the area before becoming president of the United States.

Today, the stream, like many others in Ohio, has become polluted and is only a shadow of its previous size due to industry and destruction of the water shed.

But the stream still provides entertainment and enjoyment to each new generation of junior fishermen who go to its banks to catch catfish.

HEART of Fox is the Jackson Twp. School. A school has been part of Fox since 1807 when it was established by the township trustees.

The present structure was built in 1911. The school, under the direction of Richard Everman, provides education for 300 children in grades one through eight.

After completing eight years at the school, area children go on to Westfall High School at Pherson.

Below the village at the site of the original school on Strawberry Prairie is Clark's Dreamstrip. This airfield is the home of the first 4-H aviation club in the state of Ohio. The club was formed about a year ago by Carl Lindsey, Louis McFarland, Leo Ostrander and Clark McFarland.

The school on Strawberry Prairie was originally the Jackson township building. Today the township meeting place is on a hill in Fox overlooking its original site. Trustees of the township are Paul Thompson, Ralph Stevenson and Thomas Boyer Jr. The clerk is Charles Steinhauer.
